War Minister Quits

Army Chiefs Stage New Argentine Power Battle

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Rival army leaders engaged today in a new struggle for leadership of the nation's ground forces and the commanding voice in President Jose Maria Guido's military-dominated regime.

A rumored intra-army feud broke into the open Wednesday when dissident commanders rebelled at the leadership of Gen. Juan Bautista Loza, war minister and army commander in chief.

Loza quit both posts Wednesday night, and the dissidents said they were satisfied the crisis would not erupt into open conflict. The roots of the crisis—deeply divergent views within the army on the future course of the nation—remained.

Defense Minister Jose Luis Cantilo took over temporary command of the war ministry and summoned top army commanders to a conciliation meeting today.

Each of the several army factions was expected to press Cantilo to name a commander in chief from among its ranks. Several army generals already were resentful that Cantilo, a civilian, had taken over the war ministry, even temporarily.

The navy and air force remained on the sidelines, rejecting overtures from the rival army groups.

Army troops occupied power plants, radio stations and other key points in the Buenos Aires area to prevent disturbances.

The wobbly Argentine peso tumbled again under the day's uncertainty, and Economy Minister Alvaro Carlos Alsogaray expressed deep concern for the effect the army conflict might have on his drive to get Argentina's stagnant economy moving again.

The army crisis stems from the military's ouster of President Arturo Frondizi last April and the subsequent forcible recess of Congress and annulment of the March elections in which followers of ex-Dictator Juan D. Peron scored sweeping victories.

The move split the army into several factions. One opposed the move altogether as unconstitutional. Another endorsed the hard line against the Peronists but pressed for an early return to constitutional rule. Still another urged an outright military seizure of power.

'Watchdog' Role Asked

Celebrezze Offers New Drug Control Program

Tests Would Be Eyed By Government

Secretary Lists 4 Means Of Avoiding Thalidomide Case

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Anthony J. Celebrezze has proposed new regulations which would give the government a watchdog role in investigational use of new drugs from start to finish, and power to call off the trials if safety doubts arise.

1. That the Food and Drug Administration be put on notice and given the full details about the distribution of drugs to doctors for investigational use on humans.

2. That clinical investigations, for use on humans, be based on adequate preclinical studies to assure safety.

3. That the clinical investigations themselves be properly planned, executed by qualified investigators, and that the Food and Drug Administration be kept fully informed during the progress of the investigations.

4. That if a substantial doubt develops as to the safety of the drug, the Food and Drug Administration and all physician-investigators using the drug be notified immediately. If necessary, the use could be halted by FDA.

Current regulations have no such provisions.

The secretary said interested persons will have 60 days in which to comment on the proposed regulations and final regulations will not be issued until any comments have been considered.

The proposals followed a promise by Celebrezze last week that tighter regulations would come soon.

While the proposals are a direct outgrowth of the furore over thalidomide, Celebrezze did not mention that German-developed drug in his announcement.

Press Raps Britain Over Soblen Stand

Airline Given New Deadline On Order To Transport Spy

LONDON (AP) — The British government came under mounting fire from its home press today as the deadlock continued over the fate of Dr. Robert A. Soblen, the runaway spy.

Several newspapers questioned Home Secretary Henry Brooke's insistence that the Israeli El Al Airline fly the psychiatrist back to the United States to serve a life sentence for spying for the Soviet Union.

The home office extended the deadline on its order to El Al to fly Soblen, 61, to New York from last midnight until midnight Friday. It also gave the airline the option of designating another line to act as its agent in transporting Soblen.

Pan American has said it would be willing to fly Soblen to New York under such an agreement. But El Al, acting on orders from the Israeli government, insisted that if Britain hands over Soblen, it will fly him to Israel.

"We have no intention of approaching another airline to take Dr. Soblen to the United States," a London spokesman for El Al said.

Soblen jumped $100,000 bail in New York in late June and fled to Israel on a dead brother's passport. Israel expelled him as an illegal immigrant and put him on an El Al plane for New York with a U.S. marshal. The airline landed him in Britain after he slashed a wrist and plunged a knife into his abdomen during the flight. Two British courts ruled that he had no permission to remain in Britain and could only stay until he was able to travel.

Heaviest Rain In Month Aids Area Farms

The heaviest rain in a month fell on the Tri-State District Wednesday night in a storm that cracked the heat wave and brought temperature relief that will last through Friday.

Farmers welcomed the downpour for their parched fields and crops and Edward Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, said the rain helped get August off to a good start for precipitation.

Some wind accompanied the main storm that hit before 6 last night but no damage was reported. The blow appeared to increase in intensity as it moved eastward and Pittsburgh area communities had damage.

East Liverpool apparently was at the edge of the stormfront as rainfall here was estimated at only 0.25 inch while Montgomery Dam only a few miles away recorded 0.6 inch. Stratton Dam had only 0.11 inch while Copeland recorded 0.55 inch. He said areas to the south of his farm got almost an inch.

A light rain later last night was followed by a brief storm early today, all adding to the total precipitation.

The last substantial rain was July 3—over 2 inches. Normal rainfall for August is 4 inches.

Farmers hoped for more rain with occasional thundershowers forecast for today and tonight.

Copeland described last night's storm as "wonderful," aiding corn, potato and other vegetable crops and pasture land. He said it also should help tomato growth and may reduce the blight.

The hot spell definitely was at end and the mercury fell by over 10 degrees after the storm. A high of 84 was registered early in the afternoon. The mercury dipped further during the night, to 67 at 7 a. m. today. The downtown had a low of 62 at 6 a. m.

GOP Attacks A-Test Move By President

Party Heads State U.S. Retreats To Russian Viewpoint

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans have closed ranks for a politically significant attack on President Kennedy's modified proposals for a nuclear test ban.

In language so similar as to indicate a prior meeting of the minds, Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York contended Wednesday that Kennedy is retreating toward the Soviet position.

Dirksen and Halleck charged in a news conference that Kennedy had sent U.S. negotiators to Geneva "hat in hand" with concessions to the Soviets that were promptly rejected. They added that the nation now was witnessing "another example by the Kennedy administration of how not to deal with the Russians."

A few hours later Rockefeller said in a statement the Kennedy administration had "moved steadily toward the Soviet position" in efforts to get a treaty on nuclear weapons testing and controls.

He said that what he called weakening of the U.S. proposals "made in March 1961 by the Kennedy administration even further seems to me to run a high risk of endangering our national security."

Rockefeller, who might become Kennedy's Republican opponent in 1964 if he wins re-election as governor this year, went on to say the Democratic President appeared to be making decisions without the public's knowing what proposals were being made.

There was no White House comment on the Republicans' remarks.

Deadline Passes In Filing For County Judicial Positions

An East Palestine attorney became the fifth candidate for County Court judge when he filed with the County Election Board prior to the deadline Wednesday afternoon.

Atty. D. Barry Dickson filed for a four - year term to join Luther Donbar of Columbiana and Atty. Herbert E. Arfman of Leetonia, in the four-way fight for two seats.

Because two candidates will be elected for four-year terms and one for a two-year term, Dickson's filing for the long term assured Atty. James L. MacDonald of Lisbon R. D. 4, incumbent, of re-election.

Satellite Bill Hit

2 Senators Hint Filibuster Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Fresh attacks by Sens. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore., raised the threat today of another Senate filibuster against the communications satellite bill.

They spoke out as the Senate Foreign Relations Committee scheduled sessions to consider amendments tightening the bill's foreign policy controls before reporting the measure back to the Senate on Friday for resumption of formal debate.

In a prepared Senate speech that appeared to be a day-early curtain raiser for another round of extended debate—interrupted last week by referral of the bill to the committee—Kefauver assailed nongovernment ownership of the proposed satellite system and said he and colleagues would discuss the measure at some length after the committee reports.

Morse told newsmen opponents will not settle for anything less than a government-owned satellite system operated by communications firms under contract or lease arrangements with the government.

He said amendments the Foreign Relations Committee might bring out would amount only to "window dressing."

Dr. Hugh L. Dryden, deputy administrator of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, told the committee Tuesday that Congress must act now to assure U.S. leadership in the creation of a global satellite system since it will take two or three years to get it into operation.

Kefauver said an operational system using either the low-orbit or the high-orbit satellites on

Heller Sees No 'Crisis' In Economy

Kennedy Aide Says Slowdown Could Be Recession Warning

WASHINGTON (AP) — Walter W. Heller, President Kennedy's chief economic adviser, says present economic trends are "perplexing and inconclusive crosscurrents" but they do not "sum up to a crisis."

But there is a possibility, he added, that the recent slowdown "represents advance warning of an economic decline."

And decline, he told a Senate-house Economic Committee on Wednesday, was another way of saying recession.

But there's no doubt, he said, "The U.S. economy is still operating considerably short of its potential."

Mrs. Duncan, 2 Killers Die For Murder

SAN QUENTIN, Calif. (AP —A triple execution in San Quentin Prison's gas chamber Wednesday wrote the final chapter in a grotesque story of obsessive mother love.

Elizabeth (Ma) Duncan, 58, was executed for plotting and paying for the murder of her pregnant daughter-in-law four years ago so she could keep her youngest son to herself.

It was a futile killing. For Frank Duncan, now 33, married again.

Yet her love was reciprocated. Frank, with his present wife and law partner, Elinor Chandler Duncan, fought through the courts, trying to save her life, until two minutes before the execution.

But no tears were shed in San Quentin's little green-walled room when Ma Duncan died, shortly after 10 a.m., tight lipped and staring straight ahead into nothingness.

The tears came three hours later for one of the two small-time criminals who said Ma Duncan promised $6,000 and paid $360 for the November 1958 killing of Olga Duncan, 30, near Santa Barbara.

A half-brother wept when cyanide gas choked off the inaudible laughter of Augustine Baldonado, 28. Strapped beside Baldonado and talking with him was his fellow killer, Luis Moya, 23.

Labor Unit Unable To Check Petitions

East Liverpool's eight - tenths of one per cent income tax will remain in effect until at least November, 1963, as Trades & Labor Council was balked in an effort to check the initiative petitions it had filed asking repeal of the measure at the Nov. 8 general election.

Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer of the central labor group, and Councilman Frank Duffy said they were unable to check the petitions before the deadline for filing at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Winters said he and Duffy went to City Hall yesterday only to learn City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, who rejected the petitions Tuesday because of insufficient signatures, is on vacation.

The labor official said he contacted Applegate by telephone and asked permission to examine the 20 petitions.

However, Winters said the auditor told him the petitions had been turned over to Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, who had been asked for an opinion on their validity because of false affidavits.

Cooper also was out-of-town and

Membership War Seen

AFL-CIO Official Urges Combined War On Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—An AFL-CIO leader, whose union is an organizing target of the rival Teamsters Union, said today it is time all AFL-CIO unions combined in an open membership war against the teamsters.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America, said he plans to propose at the quarterly meeting of the AFL-CIO executive council beginning Monday in Chicago the formation by the federation of a Teamsters organizing committee.

Beirne said Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has increasingly been directing membership raids against a number of AFL-CIO unions, including the machinists as well as the communications workers.

"We can't wait any more for him to chip away at us," Beirne told a reporter. "It's time we took on Hoffa and made no bones about it. Up to now we've just waited for Teamsters groups to come to us. Not many have come. So we should go after them."

The Teamsters recently established a communications division and mounted a well-financed drive to take from Beirne's union some 17,000 telephone installation workers employed by the Western Electric division of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Some 2,000 phone installers in nine Southern states have expressed preference for a switch to the Teamsters. Any formal shift of bargaining and union representation rights would be subject, however, to a nationwide vote of all the phone installers.

Man Sleeping In Car Robbed Of $80 Cash

An East End man told police this morning a smooth - working thief took his billfold containing $80 in cash, a $108 check, the title to his 1961 auto and other papers from his trousers pocket while he was asleep in his car parked in a municipal lot.

Archie Bess, 805 Dewey Ave., told officers the wallet was stolen while he was asleep between 5 and 7 a. m. in the parking lot on the West side of Market and 3rd Sts.

Andrew Mikita, 131½ W. 6th St., reported to police Wednesday that a green tackle box containing 10- and 15-year service pins, watch chain, carving sets and Chinese coins was stolen from his car sometime Monday.

Collier Construction Co., a firm working on the city expressway, reported three windows were broken and the side of its trailer dented while parked on W. 8th St.

Comedian Collapses

Eddie Cantor's Ida Dies Of Heart Attack In Sleep

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ida Cantor, wife of comedian Eddie Cantor and the one for whom he sang his song "Ida" for many years, died of a heart attack in her sleep Wednesday. She was 70.

Cantor, also 70, suffering from a heart ailment himself for several years, collapsed in a state of shock when his wife was pronounced dead. He was placed under sedation in their Beverly Hills home. A nurse remained at his bedside.

The couple, childhood sweethearts on the streets of New York, married 48 years ago while Cantor was a struggling vaudeville comedian.

They had five daughters who with Mrs. Cantor figured prominently in much of the banjo-eyed comedian's humor. The eldest daughter, Marjorie, died of cancer in 1959.

Mrs. Cantor died in the family home where she had been suffering for some time with a heart ailment.

Her maiden name was Ida Tobias. Her father tried to get Cantor to quit show business and to go into the clothing business with him.

But the orphaned Cantor's widowed grandmother, Esther Cantor, put her foot down. Being a comedian, she said, was just as important as selling suits.

Cantor has been largely retired in recent years, spending his time writing books and articles reminiscing on his long career.

Survivors in addition to Cantor include the four daughters, Natalia, Edna, Marilyn, Janet and five grandchildren.

The woman who became known to millions as "Ida, sweet as apple cider, traveled thousands of miles with Cantor on his personal appearance tours.

She suffered a heart attack eight years ago while in Miami, Fla., for a Cantor benefit performance. She had a second heart attack four years ago and spent three months in a hospital in Los Angeles.

$1,000 Bond Put Up Pending Ruling

Samuel Johnson, operator of the Veterans Social Club, filed notice of appeal Wednesday in Common Pleas Court against Judge Joel H. Sharp's ruling that put the East End club on probation last week, along with a curfew for closing hours.

Judge Sharp had declared the club a "public nuisance" and ordered it closed until certain stipulations had been obeyed, later placing it on a 10 p.m. curfew each night except Fridays and Saturdays when it could remain open until midnight.

A bond of $1,000 furnished by a Steubenville firm was posted but Judge Sharp called Johnson to the bench and told him the bond would not alter closing hours pending a ruling on a motion for a new trial.

City's Income Tax 'Assured'

Labor Unit Unable To Check Petitions

East Liverpool's eight - tenths of one per cent income tax will remain in effect until at least November, 1963, as Trades & Labor Council was balked in an effort to check the initiative petitions it had filed asking repeal of the measure at the Nov. 8 general election.

Joseph A. Winters, secretary-treasurer of the central labor group, and Councilman Frank Duffy said they were unable to check the petitions before the deadline for filing at 4 p. m. Wednesday.

Winters said he and Duffy went to City Hall yesterday only to learn City Auditor Lawrence C. Applegate, who rejected the petitions Tuesday because of insufficient signatures, is on vacation.

The labor official said he contacted Applegate by telephone and asked permission to examine the 20 petitions.

However, Winters said the auditor told him the petitions had been turned over to Solicitor Joseph W. Cooper, who had been asked for an opinion on their validity because of false affidavits.

Cooper also was out-of-town and

Membership War Seen

AFL-CIO Official Urges Combined War On Hoffa

WASHINGTON (AP)—An AFL-CIO leader, whose union is an organizing target of the rival Teamsters Union, said today it is time all AFL-CIO unions combined in an open membership war against the teamsters.

Joseph A. Beirne, president of the AFL-CIO Communications Workers of America, said he plans to propose at the quarterly meeting of the AFL-CIO executive council beginning Monday in Chicago the formation by the federation of a Teamsters organizing committee.

Beirne said Teamsters President James R. Hoffa has increasingly been directing membership raids against a number of AFL-CIO unions, including the machinists as well as the communications workers.

"We can't wait any more for him to chip away at us," Beirne told a reporter. "It's time we took on Hoffa and made no bones about it. Up to now we've just waited for Teamsters groups to come to us. Not many have come. So we should go after them."

The Teamsters recently established a communications division and mounted a well-financed drive to take from Beirne's union some 17,000 telephone installation workers employed by the Western Electric division of the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.

Some 2,000 phone installers in nine Southern states have expressed preference for a switch to the Teamsters. Any formal shift of bargaining and union representation rights would be subject, however, to a nationwide vote of all the phone installers.

Man Sleeping In Car Robbed Of $80 Cash

An East End man told police this morning a smooth - working thief took his billfold containing $80 in cash, a $108 check, the title to his 1961 auto and other papers from his trousers pocket while he was asleep in his car parked in a municipal lot.

Archie Bess, 805 Dewey Ave., told officers the wallet was stolen while he was asleep between 5 and 7 a. m. in the parking lot on the West side of Market and 3rd Sts.

Andrew Mikita, 131½ W. 6th St., reported to police Wednesday that a green tackle box containing 10- and 15-year service pins, watch chain, carving sets and Chinese coins was stolen from his car sometime Monday.

Collier Construction Co., a firm working on the city expressway, reported three windows were broken and the side of its trailer dented while parked on W. 8th St.

Comedian Collapses

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ida Cantor, wife of comedian Eddie Cantor and the one for whom he sang his song "Ida" for many years, died of a heart attack in her sleep Wednesday. She was 70.

Cantor, also 70, suffering from a heart ailment himself for several years, collapsed in a state of shock when his wife was pronounced dead. He was placed under sedation in their Beverly Hills home. A nurse remained at his bedside.

The couple, childhood sweethearts on the streets of New York, married 48 years ago while Cantor was a struggling vaudeville comedian.

They had five daughters who with Mrs. Cantor figured prominently in much of the banjo-eyed comedian's humor. The eldest daughter, Marjorie, died of cancer in 1959.

Mrs. Cantor died in the family home where she had been suffering for some time with a heart ailment.

Her maiden name was Ida Tobias. Her father tried to get Cantor to quit show business and to go into the clothing business with him.

But the orphaned Cantor's widowed grandmother, Esther Cantor, put her foot down. Being a comedian, she said, was just as important as selling suits.

Cantor has been largely retired in recent years, spending his time writing books and articles reminiscing on his long career.

Survivors in addition to Cantor include the four daughters, Natalia, Edna, Marilyn, Janet and five grandchildren.

The woman who became known to millions as "Ida, sweet as apple cider, traveled thousands of miles with Cantor on his personal appearance tours.

She suffered a heart attack eight years ago while in Miami, Fla., for a Cantor benefit performance. She had a second heart attack four years ago and spent three months in a hospital in Los Angeles.

Club Appeals Restrictions

$1,000 Bond Put Up Pending Ruling

Samuel Johnson, operator of the Veterans Social Club, filed notice of appeal Wednesday in Common Pleas Court against Judge Joel H. Sharp's ruling that put the East End club on probation last week, along with a curfew for closing hours.

Judge Sharp had declared the club a "public nuisance" and ordered it closed until certain stipulations had been obeyed, later placing it on a 10 p.m. curfew each night except Fridays and Saturdays when it could remain open until midnight.

A bond of $1,000 furnished by a Steubenville firm was posted but Judge Sharp called Johnson to the bench and told him the bond would not alter closing hours pending a ruling on a motion for a new trial.

After hearing testimony from both state witnesses and club members and neighbors, the

Driver Admits Hit-Skip Case

Taken into custody about 2½ hours after a mishap on the River Rd., an East End motorist pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Sentencing of Charles Eddy, 39, of 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., was continued until next Thursday at 9 a. m. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff also continued Eddy's bond of $107.50.

Eddy was taken into custody at his home at 10:22 p. m. yesterday after his car allegedly struck a parked car owned by James Wright, 58, of 627 River Rd., between 6:45 and 7:45 p. m.

Wright told police he had parked the 1958 auto at 6:45 and returned an hour later to find the right rear had been damaged extensively.

After he was taken into custody, Eddy told police a bump in the road and the rain-slick surface caused him to lose control.

An accident at 11:05 a. m. yesterday on St. Clair Ave. near Lang St. involved a northbound car operated by Paul E. Edgell, 45, of Andrews Pl. and a car owned by Raymond W. Moore of Imperial Dr., which drifted from its parking place.

Edgell told police he had just pulled from a parking space and started to move forward when the Moore car drifted backward into his.

Stephen Moore, operator of the car, told police he had parked it, pulled on the emergency brake and had entered a store when the mishap occurred.

Railroad Men Pull Their Own Surprise

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Plans were made during Bowling Green's centennial to arrest some visiting railroad men on a charge of not having beards as ordered by the town for the celebration.

But the railroaders pulled a surprise of their own. They grew beards in advance of their arrival.

Wife On Scooter Dies After Auto Collision

BEAVER FALLS — State Police are searching for an unidentified driver whose car struck a motor scooter Wednesday night, injuring a young wife who died later in Providence Hospital.

Mrs. Darlene A. Sirota, 19, of Darlington, riding a motor scooter operated by her husband, Donald E. Sirota, 22, died at 10:26 p. m. of shock and extensive fractures following the accident about 8:50.

Police said the scooter was struck in the rear by the car, which possibly received damage to the right front. Police said the accident occurred on Route 51, a four-lane divided highway, and about 2½ miles north of Darlington.

The husband was treated at Providence Hospital for contusions of the hip and bruises of the left foot.

Curfew Set To Curb Whoopers, Hollerers

CANAL WINCHESTER, Ohio (AP)—This little village on the Franklin-Fairfield County line is striking back at people who "whoop and holler" on streets and keep villagers awake.

Council adopted a curfew which states that anyone, married or not, under 21 years of age must be accompanied by parents if on village streets between 10:30 p.m. and 5:30 a.m.

Fines ranging from $10 to $50 are to be imposed on violators.

Village marshal Guy Bigum was quick to point out, however that it is mostly "outside folk" who have been keeping the village "from getting its proper sleep" at night.

Driver Admits Hit-Skip Case

Taken into custody about 2½ hours after a mishap on the River Rd., an East End motorist pleaded guilty today in Municipal Court to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident.

Sentencing of Charles Eddy, 39, of 1503 Pennsylvania Ave., was continued until next Thursday at 9 a. m. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff also continued Eddy's bond of $107.50.

Eddy was taken into custody at his home at 10:22 p. m. yesterday after his car allegedly struck a parked car owned by James Wright, 58, of 627 River Rd., between 6:45 and 7:45 p. m.

Wright told police he had parked the 1958 auto at 6:45 and returned an hour later to find the right rear had been damaged extensively.

After he was taken into custody, Eddy told police a bump in the road and the rain-slick surface caused him to lose control.

An accident at 11:05 a. m. yesterday on St. Clair Ave. near Lang St. involved a northbound car operated by Paul E. Edgell, 45, of Andrews Pl. and a car owned by Raymond W. Moore of Imperial Dr., which drifted from its parking place.

Edgell told police he had just pulled from a parking space and started to move forward when the Moore car drifted backward into his.

Stephen Moore, operator of the car, told police he had parked it, pulled on the emergency brake and had entered a store when the mishap occurred.

Railroad Men Pull Their Own Surprise

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) — Plans were made during Bowling Green's centennial to arrest some visiting railroad men on a charge of not having beards as ordered by the town for the celebration.

But the railroaders pulled a surprise of their own. They grew beards in advance of their arrival.

Wife On Scooter Dies After Auto Collision

BEAVER FALLS — State Police are searching for an unidentified driver whose car struck a motor scooter Wednesday night, injuring a young wife who died later in Providence Hospital.

Mrs. Darlene A. Sirota, 19, of Darlington, riding a motor scooter operated by her husband, Donald E. Sirota, 22, died at 10:26 p. m. of shock and extensive fractures following the accident about 8:50.

Police said the scooter was struck in the rear by the car, which possibly received damage to the right front. Police said the accident occurred on Route 51, a four-lane divided highway, and about 2½ miles north of Darlington.

The husband was treated at Providence Hospital for contusions of the hip and bruises of the left foot.

Curfew Set To Curb Whoopers, Hollerers

CANAL WINCHESTER, Ohio (AP)—This little village on the Franklin-Fairfield County line is striking back at people who "whoop and holler" on streets and keep villagers awake.

Council adopted a curfew which states that anyone, married or not, under 21 years of age must be accompanied by parents if on village streets between 10:30 p.m. and 5:30 a.m.

Fines ranging from $10 to $50 are to be imposed on violators.

Village marshal Guy Bigum was quick to point out, however that it is mostly "outside folk" who have been keeping the village "from getting its proper sleep" at night.

Although meat charts sometimes designate a pound of boneless meat as serving four, you may find it wise to count on this amount of meat serving only three!

Statistics reveal that it takes the entire day's output of 120,960 American cows to supply this country with enough milk and cream for every morning's 10-minute coffee break in office and business routine.

Extenuating Circumstances

Robert A. Soblen was sentenced to life imprisonment by Federal Judge William B. Herlands in Aug. 1961. At the time, it was medical opinion that leukemia would destroy his life in another year.

His crime was conspiracy to obtain and transmit American national defense secrets. "Such a crime is analagous to a conspiracy to commit mass murder," declared Judge Herlands. "The severity of the sentence must be consonant with the obvious character of the defendan'ts crime."

This is the man who has been kicked around like a soccer ball by politicians who cannot make up their minds to act in the public interest. If there has been one case without extenuating circumstances to justify special consideration, this is it—the case of Robert A. Soblen, would-be mass murderer.

The climax of his crimes against the United States was reached when he jumped $100,000 bail, including $40,000 of his wife's savings. The medical opinion that leukemia was going to kill him within a year and thereby close his case forever has not been borne out by his continued activities; it has no more bearing on the case now than it had when Judge Herlands sentenced him.

Soblen came to the United States in 1941 from Lithuania. In 1940, Lavrenti Beria, head of the Soviet Union's secret police, conceived the idea of sending 15 members of the Soblen (Sobolevicius) family abroad. The respectable anti-Communist members would provide cover for Robert and his brother Jack, Communists since 1919.

Soblen spied on the U.S. Office of Strategic Services and passed information to Moscow. He spied on atomic secrets at Albuquerque, N.M. Jack Soblen confessed in 1957 and proved to be the principal witness against his own brother.

Yet in a bail-jumping situation the governments of Israel, Britain and the United States became so confused they could not serve their own citizens. Each was blaming the other over inability to get Soblen back to the United States, where he belonged.

In all truth the citizens of all three countries should be blaming the addled minds of politicians who lost sight of their responsibility to serve their people.

Chirp, Chirp

For those who find pleasure in listening to the orchestrations of our insect friends on warm August evenings, we offer the following note from a local agricultural agent.

"By counting the chirps of a cricket for 15 seconds, and adding the sum total to 40, one can come near the actual Farenheit temperature at the time," the farm expert says.

We haven't tried it, but the suggestion could prove an interesting experiment for a dull summer evening.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

If you want to know how farmers talk when they're laughing through their tears, this is how they describe what happens when drought dwindles the hay crop: "It was so short we had to lather it."

This is the first time I've ever been skunked as a back-yard gardener on a tomato crop. Me, the popoff who always said any fool could raise tomatoes.

When people are in a mood to talk about juvenile delinquency as a recent invention, I get into a mood to tell what I can recall of events in my home town among us kids—many of the kind our own mothers had forbidden us to play with.

I brought back from Oxford University this reference point for making comparisons between education here and in Britain—that an undergraduate comes to Oxford for his first term with more education under his mortar board than college graduates in the United States have when they get their degrees.

All of us feel sorry for people who destroy themselves in the depths of despair, but do not expect us to swallow the guff that we should feel sorry in a special way for beautiful women paid fabulous salaries to let themselves be photographed by Hollywood cameramen. There's nothing intrinsically tragic about being a movie star.

Each year the first popguns of the oncoming political campaigns take me by surprise until I realize it's time for the family reunion, always held the third Sunday in August. Politicians used to make the rounds of these convocations of cousins to solicit support at the polls. They were held late in August in many cases because that was when farm families began to have time to enjoy the harvest moon.

It was Herbert Hoover, 31st president of the United States and 88 years old this year on Aug. 10, who said this: "Out in the countryside, in the small towns, on the farms, Americans are just as patriotic as they ever were, ready to meet any emergency, any challenge." What our most respected patriarch meant was that we pay too much attention to what goes on in cities.

I am rebuilding a stone wall—the dry method, piling up stones by shapes and weight. For others who start the task I offer this piece of advice: This is something that can't be performed in a hurry. It is like growing oak trees, building popular intelligence to save freedom, having a baby and reading Tolstoy's "War and Peace."

Morse Code

By James Marlow

Someone should slip up alongside a windjammer like Sen. Morse of Oregon, the renegade Republican now stirring up trouble in the Democrats' camp, and give him the word about who developed Telstar.

The senator has been talking as if it would be better to authorize the Great Good Government to get its nose under the tent in the communications satellite field because private enterprise can't be trusted to keep on giving the kind of communications service Americans take for granted.

So what happens if the Great Good Government gets its nose under the tent. Why the GGG goes immediately to the Bell Laboratories which designed and built Telstar and says to build the same thing for it at taxpayers' expense, then it pays American Telephone and Telegraph Co. to send and receive messages?

There isn't a politician anywhere who knows how to use the thing, or a bureaucrat, nepotist, or gravy-eater. They know no more about it than the rest of us know about the Morse code that prompts this Oregonian to find so much that is sinister in taxpayers and so much that is admirable in public jobholders.

Silent Sams

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy's cabinet — compared with some of the more outspoken members of President Eisenhower's cabinet — looks like a bunch of silent Sams.

Each President is free to handle his cabinet as he wishes. Eisenhower gave his more status as an institution than Kennedy by meeting with it oftener. He even took it on television with him to talk to the nation.

Kennedy may meet with his cabinet members individually. But he puts a great reliance on his White House brain trust. And no one in his cabinet or brain trust has shared the spotlight with him, or tried to.

ALMOST FROM the moment he became Eisenhower's secretary of state in 1953, John Foster Dulles was a great force unto himself without hesitancy in making high policy pronouncements.

Not so with the present secretary, Dean Rusk, a rather self-effacing man who runs his job like an expert technician, leaving the big statements to Kennedy.

Dulles was in continual conflict with his critics. Rusk so far has had practically no critics and his only conflict seems limited to the Russians, and then only in a quietly professional way.

Nobody challenges the competency of Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. But he has stayed out of the headlines so much most people probably could not say offhand who heads the Treasury Department.

But very early in the Eisenhower administration Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey became a dominant figure with little reluctance in stating policy, a very conservative one, which became the hallmark of Eisenhower's years.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother, may be a symbol of the young-in-heart to many people. But he has operated a lot more quietly than Herbert Brownell, Eisenhower's attorney general.

THE TIMES and circumstances, though, were different for Dulles and Brownell. They took over at the peak of the McCarthy era and its hunt for Communists inside and outside government. It was a noisy time.

Still, they overheated some of their problems. Dulles, for example, was so anxious to pacify McCarthyites with State Department purges that he damaged morale there. And Bornwell made some harsh attacks, some thought far too harsh, on the previous Truman administration.

The two presidents each lost one cabinet member before they had been in office two years: Martin Durkin, Eisenhower's secretary of labor, and Abraham Ribicoff, Kennedy's secretary of health, education and welfare.

There was a big difference in their going. Angry Durkin, a former labor leader, accused Eisenhower aides of breaking an agreement to try to soften the Taft-Hartley Act.

Ribicoff, it has been said around Washington, was never close to Kennedy but the two men parted in good spirit because, Ribicoff said, he wanted to run for the Senate from Connecticut.

WHILE DURKIN said little in his nine months with Eisenhower, the present secretary of labor, Arthur J. Goldberg, has also said little except in a factual way but by sheer work is an outstanding cabinet member.

Any similarity between the two secretaries ends there. Wilson, an extroverted and genial man who sometimes talked too much at the wrong time, bobbed in and out of hot water.

McNamara, the bookish but incisive type, avoids public pronouncements but, by hard work and brains, already is considered one of the best of all secretaries.

As for the other secretaries in both administrations, the Kennedy group has had less to say.

Curtain Time At The Moscow Puppet Show

Russian Propaganda Floods Iran

By Victor Riesel

TEHERAN, Iran

A newwsman roving into the Zagros Mountain highlands ran into some Ghashghai tribesmen. They talked of many things—and soon, of course, about Americans. One of the nomadic tribesman said something about Americans wanting to steal Ghashghai blood. There was some friendly, but sharp, questioning.

Victor Riesel

Soon the newsman learned that some time back a U.S. "AID" anti-malaria medical unit had been in the area. It had needed some blood samples for its pre-inoculation work. The tribesmen had misinterpreted this. It was not the fault of the Americans. Nor of the truly fine propaganda and educational work we do in Iran.

They spend money today on infiltration of every square mile like gold was going out of fashion tomorrow. They hit this vast oil-rich land above the Persian Gulf from three areas.

THERE IS the Communist National Voice of Iran (NVI). It operates 14 miles outside of Baku. There is the Voice of Moscow, powerful enough to come beaming in on Iran, where we have what is probably the second or third largest military installation outside the U.S.

There is the station called "Radio Peyk-e Iran" (Message of Iran). Allegedly it is a secret mobile radio fighting the Shah from inside the land. Actually it works out of Leipsiz in East Germany.

Inside Iran the Shah has outlawed the Communist party. Many of its activists were hanged in the public square.

But that does not keep the Communists (the Tudeh party) from operating underground. It's difficult here, but the party line gets across despite the operations of a national secret police, the SAVAK.

This isn't exactly a country where one underground apparatus simply distributes leaflets. Out in the villages they don't read. But the imagery is good. In some communities, an American found shops filled with wooden plates delicately painted. Trouble was that Patrice Lumumba's picture was the image in the center of these plates which hung all over the streets. No one quite knows how it started—but there was the symbol of Communist martyrdom in Africa.

THERE ARE SCORES of techniques. But the Tavarisch make their errors, too. And so I thought I'd devote this report to some strategic boners, lest the world back home get the idea that the comrades to the north of here are round-the-clock geniuses.

There is, for example, the matter of caviar. Everywhere among gourmets, and ordinary over-eaters like myself, caviar is thought to be Russian. Who has not seen it so listed on a thousand menus? Well, it's not Russian. Those fish eggs are Iranian. They come out of Iranian waters, the Caspian shorelines of this nation.

But the Russians come in, buy up the delicacy, package it, put their own label on it and give the world the impression they are truly civilized—for only a well-fed nation would have such a gourmet's delight to export.

This has angered many an Iranian. Not only angered them, but provoked them into mocking and laughing at the shoddy trick. And if you can get the people to laugh at someone, you've got him half driven out of the market place.

THERE WAS LAUGHTER, too, not so long ago when the Russians pulled an old trick here, one they've pulled on newsmen from time to time. There are many Russians in this country. They came down over the years. Some of them escaped to Iran across the sea after the revolution when the Red army was driving out the Whites.

Some time ago Moscow decided to exploit these old Russians. Word came from the big Soviet block-square embassy compound on Churchill Avenue that Mother Russia wants its people back. The expatriate Russians were promised the best in blintzes, jobs, rubles and freedom back home in the Socialist fatherland.

This intrigued many of the runaway Russians. They liked the thought of going home. So when word came to report on a certain day, a line queued up all along the street. Quick like a Khrushchev smile, out came Soviet photographers and newsreel men. Pictures were taken.

The folks on the line were told to return the next day. They were kept waiting. The trick, of course, was to make it seem that hundreds were lining up daily for the return to Russia. The Iranian government quickly told the U.S.S.R. Embassy to stop the propaganda operation.

SOON A STORY passed around Teheran. Reportedly one Russian applied for a visa and got it. He, however, was not a trusting soul. He decided not to take his family. He said he would go and then tip them off by sending them a postcard picture of himself.

If the photo showed him standing up and smiling, the family was to follow. If the picture showed him sitting sternly they were to stay here. Soon the card came. It was a picture of the fellow lying flat on the floor with his eyes closed.

That story still gets a laugh here. And every time the folks laugh at it, the Russians lose a little face.

Maybe we ought to make a cabinet place for Bob Hope. He might be worth several military installations and save us billions.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Chester Post 11 of the American Legion was awarded the McGinnis trophy for having the largest increase in membership of any Legion post in West Virginia the past year.

Nine speakers, including Mrs. C. R. Serafy and Mrs. Charles Brown, were listed on the program for the 33rd birthday anniversary of the First Baptist Church of East Liverpool.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Lawrence Savors of Chester, Charles Schenkel and Arthur Geer, both of East Liverpool, and Warren Urie of Wellsville, district checker players, participated in the nationwide team match at Cedar Point.

Mrs. Harold Hardy and Mrs. Clifford Thornberry were received as new members of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church of East Liverpool.

TEN YEARS AGO — Playing his first year in the City League, Tad Okazaki of Rigby's Pharmacy captured the 1952 batting championship with an average of .461.

David Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown of W. 4th St., was named a delegate to the Sigma Nu Fraternity convention at Mackinac Lake, Mich.

Spy-Swatting Mr. Ferry

By David Lawrence

Hoover And Business Are Assailed

Is there a faction in the Democratic party today which considers the fight against communism in the United States as just a lot of nonsense? If the tendency is in that direction, it is quite possible that the Democratic party itself will be facing again the charge of being "soft on communism" which led in part to its defeat in the 1952 presidential and congressional elections.

David Lawrence

It seems strange that the 13-state conference of western Democrats at Seattle should have given its time to listen to a speech by W. H. Ferry, vice president of the Fund for the Republic, denouncing as ineffective "spy-swatting" the efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in fighting communism.

Mr. Ferry apparently differs with Attorney General Robert Kennedy in appraising the significance of the activities of the communists in this country. The attorney general has repeatedly said in public speeches that communist subversives cannot be ignored.

Mr. Ferry said in one part of his speech:

"No one cares to have spies and saboteurs percolating through the republic, and if the FBI is not up to finding and prosecuting them, let us set up an agency that can."

MR. FERRY talks as if all the FBI has to do to get rid of persons suspected of communist activities is to arrest them and that they will then be convicted and put in jail without much difficulty.

The truth is that communist agents are not only subtle and skillful in their methods, but they know American laws very well and have the benefit of resourceful lawyers who manage to keep them out of jail.

The Supreme Court has been of no little assistance on many occasions, with rulings that communism is just a kind of belief and that freedom of speech should protect those accused of furthering the communist cause in public. It's difficult to prosecute — and even for congressional and state legislative committees to investigate — when the arm of the law is thus weakend.

This means the cooperation of the American people is most essential. One of the most effective ways to combat communism is to educate the people concerning the insidious methds used to influence them through the press, radio, church school systems, educational faculties and labor unions. It is conceded that the number of communists is small but that many innocent people have been duped and misled by the real communist agents.

THE PROBLEM remains. It takes only one Klaus Fuchs to steal atomic secrets. The British government gave clearance to Fuchs when he came to the United States to work on the atomic bomb project, and this was accepted by the American government. Eventually, however, it was found that Fuchs conspired with others and gave information to the communists that accelerated the time when the Soviet Union was capable of developing atomic weapons.

For the last two weeks, newspapers have been publishing the story of Robert Soblen, who escaped from this country even though he was under $100,000 bail.

He was a convicted spy sentenced to life imprisonment. But the FBI is powerless when a man is granted bail who never should have been given even temporary freedom. The FBI doesn't control the courts.

Mr. Ferry has been a controversial figure and has taken an active part in belittling the communist menace in this country. Not long ago, he tried to combat the efforts of the New Hampshire legislative committee which investigated alleged communist infiltrational institutions.

In his address before the 13-state Democratic party conference he seemed to level his attack particularly at J. Edgar Hoover. This is not a new tactic. For many years, many persons have been trying to damage the prestige of the head o. the FBI but have not succeeded. Mr. Ferry said:

"Then Mr. Hoover warns against Soviet espionage in the U.S. This is an old line of the FBI chief, and its success year after year is a tribute to the trance into which sermons throw Americans, not excepting congressmen.

"Mr. Hoover is, after all, our official spy-swatter. In there persistent reports about espionage and sabotage, is he delicately telling us that he isn't up to the job, that Red spies are running loose despite his best efforts? If, in fact, we are infested with these rascals, as Mr. Hoover intimates, if might occur to many people that the country needs a more efficient spy-swatter."

NOT CONTENT with his blows at the FBI and its efforts to ferret out communist subversives, Mr. Ferry aimed a few swipes at American business and industry. He took issue with those who have suggested that President Kennedy now is trying to "woo" American business.

Mr. Ferry said:

"Industry should not be wooed, but watched, and tolerated and reined in when it gets out of line. . . . They (the corporations) are not there to be loved but to be used."

Mr. Ferry, as vice president of the Fund for the Republic, has a lot to say nowadays about how the money accumulated by the late Henry Ford should be spent.

Mr. Ford was probably the best example of how one man can build up an individual enterprise that this country has ever seen. He might never have made the success he did if American business had been regulated to the extent that it is today.

It's strange how often the funds bequeathed by men who are pilloried as "big business" are used by so-called "liberals" to create antagonisms against business as an institution.

U.S. Deeply Involved

By Tom Lambert

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam — American involvement in South Viet Nam's bitterly brutal war with the Communists is mushrooming.

The volume of men, machines, money and effort being directed by Washington to this country to help scour the Communists out of its jungles, mountains, canals and rice fields seems to be expanding almost visibly.

American military spokesmen in Saigon adamantly refuse to disclose the number of U.S. servicemen now in South Viet Nam. But it probably is at least 9,000.

AS THEIR NUMBERS increase and as more of them go into the field with South Vietnamese combat forces it seems certain some of them will join the estimated 12 Americans already killed in clashes with Communists or in accidents in this country.

The increased American effort is evident in many ways and many places:

In whopping additions in the numbers of Americans on headquarters or field advisory duty with South Vietnamese forces. One year ago, for example, there were 14 Americans assigned to the South Vietnamese Army's Second Corps Headquarters in this mountain plateau town. There are at least four or five times that many today.

In scope and variety the jobs American servicemen are doing in South Viet Nam range from hush-hush "radio research" work by a Marine Corps unit based here to classes in guerrilla warfare being given by the U.S. Army's green-bereted special forces teams (they are called "Sneaky Pete's" by some of their servicemen colleagues), to loin-clothed South Vietnamese mountain tribesmen.

IN SWELLING volume, American arms and equipment are being given to the South Vietnamese. New American Armalite rifles and M79 grenade launchers, probably scarce in most U.S. combat units, are being handed over to some South Vietnamese Rangers.

New American-purchased Schmeisser machine pistols are being given to some mountain tribesmen. American Marine engines are getting installed in South Viet Nam's first fleet of seagoing combat junks designed for patrols and corsair attacks against Communist coastal and river boats.

Construction of installations, quarters and offices for Americans assigned to South Viet Nam continues to mount. The U.S. Air Force, for example, is building a tremendous communications stations on a bare hilltop here. Extenuating Circumstances

Robert A. Soblen was sentenced to life imprisonment by Federal Judge William B. Herlands in Aug. 1961. At the time, it was medical opinion that leukemia would destroy his life in another year.

His crime was conspiracy to obtain and transmit American national defense secrets. "Such a crime is analagous to a conspiracy to commit mass murder," declared Judge Herlands. "The severity of the sentence must be consonant with the obvious character of the defendan'ts crime."

This is the man who has been kicked around like a soccer ball by politicians who cannot make up their minds to act in the public interest. If there has been one case without extenuating circumstances to justify special consideration, this is it—the case of Robert A. Soblen, would-be mass murderer.

The climax of his crimes against the United States was reached when he jumped $100,000 bail, including $40,000 of his wife's savings. The medical opinion that leukemia was going to kill him within a year and thereby close his case forever has not been borne out by his continued activities; it has no more bearing on the case now than it had when Judge Herlands sentenced him.

Soblen came to the United States in 1941 from Lithuania. In 1940, Lavrenti Beria, head of the Soviet Union's secret police, conceived the idea of sending 15 members of the Soblen (Sobolevicius) family abroad. The respectable anti-Communist members would provide cover for Robert and his brother Jack, Communists since 1919.

Soblen spied on the U.S. Office of Strategic Services and passed information to Moscow. He spied on atomic secrets at Albuquerque, N.M. Jack Soblen confessed in 1957 and proved to be the principal witness against his own brother.

Yet in a bail-jumping situation the governments of Israel, Britain and the United States became so confused they could not serve their own citizens. Each was blaming the other over inability to get Soblen back to the United States, where he belonged.

In all truth the citizens of all three countries should be blaming the addled minds of politicians who lost sight of their responsibility to serve their people.

Chirp, Chirp

For those who find pleasure in listening to the orchestrations of our insect friends on warm August evenings, we offer the following note from a local agricultural agent.

"By counting the chirps of a cricket for 15 seconds, and adding the sum total to 40, one can come near the actual Farenheit temperature at the time," the farm expert says.

We haven't tried it, but the suggestion could prove an interesting experiment for a dull summer evening.

Purely Personal

By Truman Twill

If you want to know how farmers talk when they're laughing through their tears, this is how they describe what happens when drought dwindles the hay crop: "It was so short we had to lather it."

This is the first time I've ever been skunked as a back-yard gardener on a tomato crop. Me, the popoff who always said any fool could raise tomatoes.

When people are in a mood to talk about juvenile delinquency as a recent invention, I get into a mood to tell what I can recall of events in my home town among us kids—many of the kind our own mothers had forbidden us to play with.

I brought back from Oxford University this reference point for making comparisons between education here and in Britain—that an undergraduate comes to Oxford for his first term with more education under his mortar board than college graduates in the United States have when they get their degrees.

All of us feel sorry for people who destroy themselves in the depths of despair, but do not expect us to swallow the guff that we should feel sorry in a special way for beautiful women paid fabulous salaries to let themselves be photographed by Hollywood cameramen. There's nothing intrinsically tragic about being a movie star.

Each year the first popguns of the oncoming political campaigns take me by surprise until I realize it's time for the family reunion, always held the third Sunday in August. Politicians used to make the rounds of these convocations of cousins to solicit support at the polls. They were held late in August in many cases because that was when farm families began to have time to enjoy the harvest moon.

It was Herbert Hoover, 31st president of the United States and 88 years old this year on Aug. 10, who said this: "Out in the countryside, in the small towns, on the farms, Americans are just as patriotic as they ever were, ready to meet any emergency, any challenge." What our most respected patriarch meant was that we pay too much attention to what goes on in cities.

I am rebuilding a stone wall—the dry method, piling up stones by shapes and weight. For others who start the task I offer this piece of advice: This is something that can't be performed in a hurry. It is like growing oak trees, building popular intelligence to save freedom, having a baby and reading Tolstoy's "War and Peace."

Morse Code

Someone should slip up alongside a windjammer like Sen. Morse of Oregon, the renegade Republican now stirring up trouble in the Democrats' camp, and give him the word about who developed Telstar.

The senator has been talking as if it would be better to authorize the Great Good Government to get its nose under the tent in the communications satellite field because private enterprise can't be trusted to keep on giving the kind of communications service Americans take for granted.

So what happens if the Great Good Government gets its nose under the tent. Why the GGG goes immediately to the Bell Laboratories which designed and built Telstar and says to build the same thing for it at taxpayers' expense, then it pays American Telephone and Telegraph Co. to send and receive messages?

There isn't a politician anywhere who knows how to use the thing, or a bureaucrat, nepotist, or gravy-eater. They know no more about it than the rest of us know about the Morse code that prompts this Oregonian to find so much that is sinister in taxpayers and so much that is admirable in public jobholders.

Silent Sams

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

President Kennedy's cabinet — compared with some of the more outspoken members of President Eisenhower's cabinet — looks like a bunch of silent Sams.

Each President is free to handle his cabinet as he wishes. Eisenhower gave his more status as an institution than Kennedy by meeting with it oftener. He even took it on television with him to talk to the nation.

Kennedy may meet with his cabinet members individually. But he puts a great reliance on his White House brain trust. And no one in his cabinet or brain trust has shared the spotlight with him, or tried to.

ALMOST FROM the moment he became Eisenhower's secretary of state in 1953, John Foster Dulles was a great force unto himself without hesitancy in making high policy pronouncements.

Not so with the present secretary, Dean Rusk, a rather self-effacing man who runs his job like an expert technician, leaving the big statements to Kennedy.

Dulles was in continual conflict with his critics. Rusk so far has had practically no critics and his only conflict seems limited to the Russians, and then only in a quietly professional way.

Nobody challenges the competency of Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon. But he has stayed out of the headlines so much most people probably could not say offhand who heads the Treasury Department.

But very early in the Eisenhower administration Secretary of the Treasury George M. Humphrey became a dominant figure with little reluctance in stating policy, a very conservative one, which became the hallmark of Eisenhower's years.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, the President's brother, may be a symbol of the young-in-heart to many people. But he has operated a lot more quietly than Herbert Brownell, Eisenhower's attorney general.

THE TIMES and circumstances, though, were different for Dulles and Brownell. They took over at the peak of the McCarthy era and its hunt for Communists inside and outside government. It was a noisy time.

Still, they overheated some of their problems. Dulles, for example, was so anxious to pacify McCarthyites with State Department purges that he damaged morale there. And Bornwell made some harsh attacks, some thought far too harsh, on the previous Truman administration.

The Kennedy men — from the President down — have done extremely little sniping at the Eisenhower administration.

The two presidents each lost one cabinet member before they had been in office two years: Martin Durkin, Eisenhower's secretary of labor, and Abraham Ribicoff, Kennedy's secretary of health, education and welfare.

There was a big difference in their going. Angry Durkin, a former labor leader, accused Eisenhower aides of breaking an agreement to try to soften the Taft-Hartley Act.

Ribicoff, it has been said around Washington, was never close to Kennedy but the two men parted in good spirit because, Ribicoff said, he wanted to run for the Senate from Connecticut.

WHILE DURKIN said little in his nine months with Eisenhower, the present secretary of labor, Arthur J. Goldberg, has also said little except in a factual way but by sheer work is an outstanding cabinet member.

Eisenhower and Kennedy each picked an automobile company president for his secretary of defense: Eisenhower — Charles Wilson of General Motors; Kennedy — Robert S. McNamara of Ford Motors.

Any similarity between the two secretaries ends there. Wilson, an extroverted and genial man who sometimes talked too much at the wrong time, bobbed in and out of hot water.

McNamara, the bookish but incisive type, avoids public pronouncements but, by hard work and brains, already is considered one of the best of all secretaries.

As for the other secretaries in both administrations, the Kennedy group has had less to say.

Curtain Time At The Moscow Puppet Show

Russian Propaganda Floods Iran

By Victor Riesel

TEHERAN, Iran

A newsman roving into the Zagros Mountain highlands ran into some Ghashghai tribesmen. They talked of many things—and soon, of course, about Americans. One of the nomadic tribesman said something about Americans wanting to steal Ghashghai blood. There was some friendly, but sharp, questioning.

Victor Riesel

Soon the newsman learned that some time back a U.S. "AID" anti-malaria medical unit had been in the area. It had needed some blood samples for its pre-inoculation work. The tribesmen had misinterpreted this. It was not the fault of the Americans. Nor of the truly fine propaganda and educational work we do in Iran.

They spend money today on infiltration of every square mile like gold was going out of fashion tomorrow. They hit this vast oil-rich land above the Persian Gulf from three areas.

THERE IS the Communist National Voice of Iran (NVI). It operates 14 miles outside of Baku. There is the Voice of Moscow, powerful enough to come beaming in on Iran, where we have what is probably the second or third largest military installation outside the U.S.

There is the station called "Radio Peyk-e Iran" (Message of Iran). Allegedly it is a secret mobile radio fighting the Shah from inside the land. Actually it works out of Leipsiz in East Germany.

Inside Iran the Shah has outlawed the Communist party. Many of its activists were hanged in the public square.

But that does not keep the Communists (the Tudeh party) from operating underground. It's difficult here, but the party line gets across despite the operations of a national secret police, the SAVAK.

This isn't exactly a country where one underground apparatus simply distributes leaflets. Out in the villages they don't read. But the imagery is good. In some communities, an American found shops filled with wooden plates delicately painted. Trouble was that Patrice Lumumba's picture was the image in the center of these plates which hung all over the streets. No one quite knows how it started—but there was the symbol of Communist martyrdom in Africa.

THERE ARE SCORES of techniques. But the Tavarisch make their errors, too. And so I thought I'd devote this report to some strategic boners, lest the world back home get the idea that the comrades to the north of here are round-the-clock geniuses.

There is, for example, the matter of caviar. Everywhere among gourmets, and ordinary over-eaters like myself, caviar is thought to be Russian. Who has not seen it so listed on a thousand menus? Well, it's not Russian. Those fish eggs are Iranian. They come out of Iranian waters, the Caspian shorelines of this nation.

But the Russians come in, buy up the delicacy, package it, put their own label on it and give the world the impression they are truly civilized—for only a well-fed nation would have such a gourmet's delight to export.

This has angered many an Iranian. Not only angered them, but provoked them into mocking and laughing at the shoddy trick. And if you can get the people to laugh at someone, you've got him half driven out of the market place.

THERE WAS LAUGHTER, too, not so long ago when the Russians pulled an old trick here, one they've pulled on newsmen from time to time. There are many Russians in this country. They came down over the years. Some of them escaped to Iran across the sea after the revolution when the Red army was driving out the Whites.

Some time ago Moscow decided to exploit these old Russians. Word came from the big Soviet block-square embassy compound on Churchill Avenue that Mother Russia wants its people back. The expatriate Russians were promised the best in blintzes, jobs, rubles and freedom back home in the Socialist fatherland.

This intrigued many of the runaway Russians. They liked the thought of going home. So when word came to report on a certain day, a line queued up all along the street. Quick like a Khrushchev smile, out came Soviet photographers and newsreel men. Pictures were taken.

The folks on the line were told to return the next day. They were kept waiting. The trick, of course, was to make it seem that hundreds were lining up daily for the return to Russia. The Iranian government quickly told the U.S.S.R. Embassy to stop the propaganda operation.

SOON A STORY passed around Teheran. Reportedly one Russian applied for a visa and got it. He, however, was not a trusting soul. He decided not to take his family. He said he would go and then tip them off by sending them a postcard picture of himself.

If the photo showed him standing up and smiling, the family was to follow. If the picture showed him sitting sternly they were to stay here. Soon the card came. It was a picture of the fellow lying flat on the floor with his eyes closed.

That story still gets a laugh here. And every time the folks laugh at it, the Russians lose a little face.

Maybe we ought to make a cabinet place for Bob Hope. He might be worth several military installations and save us billions.

Through The Years

THIRTY YEARS AGO — Chester Post 11 of the American Legion was awarded the McGinnis trophy for having the largest increase in membership of any Legion post in West Virginia the past year.

Nine speakers, including Mrs. C. R. Serafy and Mrs. Charles Brown, were listed on the program for the 33rd birthday anniversary of the First Baptist Church of East Liverpool.

TWENTY YEARS AGO — Lawrence Savors of Chester, Charles Schenkel and Arthur Geer, both of East Liverpool, and Warren Urie of Wellsville, district checker players, participated in the nationwide team match at Cedar Point.

Mrs. Harold Hardy and Mrs. Clifford Thornberry were received as new members of the Young Women's Missionary Society of the First United Presbyterian Church of East Liverpool.

TEN YEARS AGO — Playing his first year in the City League, Tad Okazaki of Rigby's Pharmacy captured the 1952 batting championship with an average of .461.

David Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Brown of W. 4th St., was named a delegate to the Sigma Nu Fraternity convention at Mackinac Lake, Mich.

Letter To Editor

I wish to take this time to thank a city employe, Mr. Kenneth McCarty of Gardendale, for his help in taking the four men from the cesspool and for his quick thinking in stopping the truck, averting another serious disaster on that fatal night.

All the people should thank Kenny from the bottom of their hearts for what he did.

Spy-Swatting Mr. Ferry

By David Lawrence

Hoover And Business Are Assailed

Is there a faction in the Democratic party today which considers the fight against communism in the United States as just a lot of nonsense? If the tendency is in that direction, it is quite possible that the Democratic party itself will be facing again the charge of being "soft on communism" which led in part to its defeat in the 1952 presidential and congressional elections.

David Lawrence

It seems strange that the 13-state conference of western Democrats at Seattle should have given its time to listen to a speech by W. H. Ferry, vice president of the Fund for the Republic, denouncing as ineffective "spy-swatting" the efforts of the Federal Bureau of Investigation in fighting communism.

Mr. Ferry apparently differs with Attorney General Robert Kennedy in appraising the significance of the activities of the communists in this country. The attorney general has repeatedly said in public speeches that communist subversives cannot be ignored.

Mr. Ferry said in one part of his speech:

"No one cares to have spies and saboteurs percolating through the republic, and if the FBI is not up to finding and prosecuting them, let us set up an agency that can."

MR. FERRY talks as if all the FBI has to do to get rid of persons suspected of communist activities is to arrest them and that they will then be convicted and put in jail without much difficulty.

The truth is that communist agents are not only subtle and skillful in their methods, but they know American laws very well and have the benefit of resourceful lawyers who manage to keep them out of jail.

The Supreme Court has been of no little assistance on many occasions, with rulings that communism is just a kind of belief and that freedom of speech should protect those accused of furthering the communist cause in public. It's difficult to prosecute — and even for congressional and state legislative committees to investigate — when the arm of the law is thus weakend.

This means the cooperation of the American people is most essential. One of the most effective ways to combat communism is to educate the people concerning the insidious methds used to influence them through the press, radio, church school systems, educational faculties and labor unions. It is conceded that the number of communists is small but that many innocent people have been duped and misled by the real communist agents.

THE PROBLEM remains. It takes only one Klaus Fuchs to steal atomic secrets. The British government gave clearance to Fuchs when he came to the United States to work on the atomic bomb project, and this was accepted by the American government. Eventually, however, it was found that Fuchs conspired with others and gave information to the communists that accelerated the time when the Soviet Union was capable of developing atomic weapons.

For the last two weeks, newspapers have been publishing the story of Robert Soblen, who escaped from this country even though he was under $100,000 bail.

He was a convicted spy sentenced to life imprisonment. But the FBI is powerless when a man is granted bail who never should have been given even temporary freedom. The FBI doesn't control the courts.

Mr. Ferry has been a controversial figure and has taken an active part in belittling the communist menace in this country. Not long ago, he tried to combat the efforts of the New Hampshire legislative committee which investigated alleged communist infiltrational institutions.

In his address before the 13-state Democratic party conference he seemed to level his attack particularly at J. Edgar Hoover. This is not a new tactic. For many years, many persons have been trying to damage the prestige of the head o. the FBI but have not succeeded. Mr. Ferry said:

"Then Mr. Hoover warns against Soviet espionage in the U.S. This is an old line of the FBI chief, and its success year after year is a tribute to the trance into which sermons throw Americans, not excepting congressmen.

"Mr. Hoover is, after all, our official spy-swatter. In there persistent reports about espionage and sabotage, is he delicately telling us that he isn't up to the job, that Red spies are running loose despite his best efforts? If, in fact, we are infested with these rascals, as Mr. Hoover intimates, if might occur to many people that the country needs a more efficient spy-swatter."

NOT CONTENT with his blows at the FBI and its efforts to ferret out communist subversives, Mr. Ferry aimed a few swipes at American business and industry. He took issue with those who have suggested that President Kennedy now is trying to "woo" American business.

Mr. Ferry said:

"Industry should not be wooed, but watched, and tolerated and reined in when it gets out of line. . . . They (the corporations) are not there to be loved but to be used."

Mr. Ferry, as vice president of the Fund for the Republic, has a lot to say nowadays about how the money accumulated by the late Henry Ford should be spent.

Mr. Ford was probably the best example of how one man can build up an individual enterprise that this country has ever seen. He might never have made the success he did if American business had been regulated to the extent that it is today.

It's strange how often the funds bequeathed by men who are piloried as "big business" are used by so-called "liberals" to create antagonisms against business as an institution.

U.S. Deeply Involved

By Tom Lambert

PLEIKU, South Viet Nam — American involvement in South Viet Nam's bitterly brutal war with the Communists is mushrooming.

The volume of men, machines, money and effort being directed by Washington to this country to help scour the Communists out of its jungles, mountains, canals and rice fields seems to be expanding almost visibly.

American military spokesmen in Saigon adamantly refuse to disclose the number of U.S. servicemen now in South Viet Nam. But it probably is at least 9,000.

AS THEIR NUMBERS increase and as more of them go into the field with South Vietnamese combat forces it seems certain some of them will join the estimated 12 Americans already killed in clashes with Communists or in accidents in this country.

The increased American effort is evident in many ways and many places:

In whopping additions in the numbers of Americans on headquarters or field advisory duty with South Vietnamese forces. One year ago, for example, there were 14 Americans assigned to the South Vietnamese Army's Second Corps Headquarters in this mountain plateau town. There are at least four or five times that many today.

In scope and variety the jobs American servicemen are doing in South Viet Nam range from hush-hush "radio research" work by a Marine Corps unit based here to classes in guerrilla warfare being given by the U.S. Army's green-bereted special forces teams (they are called "Sneaky Pete's" by some of their servicemen colleagues), to loincloted South Vietnamese mountain tribesmen.

IN SWELLING volume, American arms and equipment are being given to the South Vietnamese. New American Armalite rifles and M79 grenade launchers, probably scarce in most U.S. combat units, are being handed over to some South Vietnamese Rangers.

New American-purchased Schmeisser machine pistols are being given to some mountain tribesmen. American Marine engines are getting installed in South Viet Nam's first fleet of seagoing combat junks designed for patrols and corsair attacks against Communist coastal and river boats.

Construction of installations, quarters and offices for Americans assigned to South Viet Nam continues to mount. The U.S. Air Force, for example, is building a tremendous communications stations on a bare hilltop here. South Vietnamese contractors are expanding facilities for American advisers quartered in former Emperor Bao Dais' huge old hunting lodge at Banmethou Banmethou.

Simple Rites Held

Plate On Crypt Ignores Marilyn Monroe 'Story'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Marilyn Monroe 1926-1962." The plate on the crypt reads simply, but it tells little of a Hollywood legend —or of her funeral, unique for such a personality.

For instance, there was former baseball great, Joe DiMaggio who married the sex goddess — the second of her three husbands.

Before Marilyn, who was found dead in bed Sunday from an overdose of sleeping pills, went to her final resting place Wednesday, the famed New York Yankee slugger bent over her coffin.

Tearfully, he kissed her and poured out from his heart:

"I love you. I love you. I love you."

It was out of character for the reticent DiMaggio, but perhaps that made it all the more sincere.

Later he drove through Westwood Memorial Park, stopped once more at her crypt and then drove on.

Then there were the fans. During the simple, non-denominational rites they were orderly, dignified, even sentimental.

But as soon as the funeral was over, a couple hundred of them climbed over a concrete wall, trampled the grass and flowers around the crypt that entombed the movie queen.

When the fans departed, most of the flowers went with them.

Then there were the Hollywood stars who weren't invited to the funeral.

Arthur Jacobs, Marilyn's longtime publicity representative, said of the 31 invited guests: "About half of the people in there would not even be there if Marilyn had had anything to do with the invitations—and a lot more of her friends would have been there."

Among these would have been actor Peter Lawford and his wife Pat, brother-in-law and sister of President Kennedy. When Mrs. Lawford heard of Marilyn's death, she flew from the summer White House at Hyannis Port, Mass., to attend the funeral.

But when she got here she found that neither she nor Peter was invited.

Marilyn's half sister, Bernice Meracle, and DiMaggio handled the guest list. No movie stars were invited — and none showed up.

Those in charge of the arrangements explained that if they invited one star, they would have to invite many, and to have a big crowd would mean a circus-like funeral.

Movies Released Of 'Whatzit' Seen On X-15's Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Space agency officials released photographs of a mysterious hand-sized object seen tumbling above the X15 rocket plane as it streaked to a record 314,750-foot altitude last July 17.

They said they could not identify or explain the object's presence in space.

The pictures were released after Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth completed a routine X15 flight to 90,000 feet Wednesday and told newsmen he saw bits of insulation floating between the twin panes of the rocket plane's windshield.

The photographs, taken by a movie camera in the tail of the X15, show a gray-white object. They were taken as the plane, piloted by Air Force Maj. Robert White, roared up at 270,000 feet on his way to the record.

Officials said they could not positively identify the photographed object. Rushworth added that he did not believe the particles he saw were the same as the one White reported seeing.

One of the goals of Wednesday's flight was to build up heat on the steel-skinned X15. Temperatures rose to 900 degrees Fahrenheit, well below the 1,200 degrees plus the craft has undergone.

Jet Engines Due Test In Power Generators

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two companies have agreed to team up 10 jet engines in a $10 million gamble to see if they can produce cheaper electric power.

Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. reported plans to set up a radical new turbine generator to be powered by the hot breath of 10 General Electric Co. jet engines set up like bullets in a revolver.

No site has been chosen yet for the plant.

Mob Hangs Man Who Killed Priest In Bolivian Town

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — An angry mob lynched a drunken bartender for slaying a young American missionary priest who had tried to stop him from serving drinks to minors.

The Rev. William Kruegler, 32, was shot to death Monday night in the patio of his parish house in the Andean village of Montero.

Over the protests of other priests, a mob seized the gunman, Manglio Saravia, dragged him through the streets to the village square and hanged him.

Services were held today for Father Kruegler in Montero and he will be buried at the Maryknoll Roman Catholic mission where he had served for two years.

Father Kruegler, one of 11 children, was a son of Katherine Kruegler and the late Francis A. Kruegler of Troy, N.Y. Two of his sisters are in religious orders.

The young missionary, ordained in 1957, had served most of his five years as a priest in central Bolivia.

Father Kruegler's mission at Montero was only about 100 yards from a saloon. On Monday night he went to the saloon to complain of the noise and appeal to Saravia to stop selling drinks to minors. The priest also went to the police.

The bartender, in a drunken rage, got a gun and sought out the priest and shot him five times.

Beaver County Gets Drought Aid Ruling

Beaver County is among eight additional Pennsylvania counties for which federal farm controls have been eased because of drought conditions. Forty-nine in all had been so designated.

The Beaver Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said farmers will now be permitted to graze livestock and cut hay on land retired under the conservation reserve, feed grain and wheat stabilization diverted acreage programs. The privileges on the diverted acreage will terminate Aug. 31, the ASC said at Beaver.

Ex-Stage Star Dies

ROYAL OAK, Mich. (AP) — Mrs. Minneola Amsden, 75, a one-time vaudeville song and comedy star, died Wednesday. She and her husband, the late Claude Amsden, started their own act in 1910 and under the billing of Temple & Huff.

Gasoline Tax Refunds Due Hancock Farmers

Deadline for Hancock County farmers to claim refunds of federal taxes on gasoline used on farms is Oct. 1, Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, reminded.

Claims may be filed for gasoline purchased after July 1, 1961, and before July 1 of this year. The federal tax refund is 4-cents a gallon. Instructions and applications are available at Johnson's office in New Cumberland.

Johnson also reported that the Agricultural Extension Service Office has been presented a bound copy of a thesis prepared by Miss Helen Petrakis, former county 4-H Club agent, for her master's degree at the University of Wisconsin. Entitled "Four-H Club Members' Perception of a Method Demonstration," the study was comprised of data supplied by county club members.

Simple Rites Held

Plate On Crypt Ignores Marilyn Monroe 'Story'

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Marilyn Monroe 1926-1962." The plate on the crypt reads simply, but it tells little of a Hollywood legend —or of her funeral, unique for such a personality.

For instance, there was former baseball great, Joe DiMaggio who married the sex goddess — the second of her three husbands.

Before Marilyn, who was found dead in bed Sunday from an overdose of sleeping pills, went to her final resting place Wednesday, the famed New York Yankee slugger bent over her coffin.

Tearfully, he kissed her and poured out from his heart:

"I love you. I love you. I love you."

It was out of character for the reticent DiMaggio, but perhaps that made it all the more sincere.

Later he drove through Westwood Memorial Park, stopped once more at her crypt and then drove on.

Then there were the fans. During the simple, non-denominational rites they were orderly, dignified, even sentimental.

But as soon as the funeral was over, a couple hundred of them climbed over a concrete wall, trampled the grass and flowers around the crypt that entombed the movie queen.

When the fans departed, most of the flowers went with them.

Then there were the Hollywood stars who weren't invited to the funeral.

Arthur Jacobs, Marilyn's longtime publicity representative, said of the 31 invited guests: "About half of the people in there would not even be there if Marilyn had had anything to do with the invitations—and a lot more of her friends would have been there."

Among these would have been actor Peter Lawford and his wife Pat, brother-in-law and sister of President Kennedy. When Mrs. Lawford heard of Marilyn's death, she flew from the summer White House at Hyannis Port, Mass., to attend the funeral.

But when she got here she found that neither she nor Peter was invited.

Marilyn's half sister, Bernice Meracle, and DiMaggio handled the guest list. No movie stars were invited — and none showed up.

Those in charge of the arrangements explained that if they invited one star, they would have to invite many, and to have a big crowd would mean a circus-like funeral.

Movies Released Of 'Whatzit' Seen On X-15's Flight

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Space agency officials released photographs of a mysterious hand-sized object seen tumbling above the X15 rocket plane as it streaked to a record 314,750-foot altitude last July 17.

They said they could not identify or explain the object's presence in space.

The pictures were released after Air Force Maj. Robert Rushworth completed a routine X15 flight to 90,000 feet Wednesday and told newsmen he saw bits of insulation floating between the twin panes of the rocket plane's windshield.

The photographs, taken by a movie camera in the tail of the X15, show a gray-white object. They were taken as the plane, piloted by Air Force Maj. Robert White, roared up at 270,000 feet on his way to the record.

Officials said they could not positively identify the photographed object. Rushworth added that he did not believe the particles he saw were the same as the one White reported seeing.

One of the goals of Wednesday's flight was to build up heat on the steel-skinned X15. Temperatures rose to 900 degrees Fahrenheit, well below the 1,200 degrees plus the craft has undergone.

Jet Engines Due Test In Power Generators

CINCINNATI (AP)—Two companies have agreed to team up 10 jet engines in a $10 million gamble to see if they can produce cheaper electric power.

Cincinnati Gas & Electric Co. reported plans to set up a radical new turbine generator to be powered by the hot breath of 10 General Electric Co. jet engines set up like bullets in a revolver.

No site has been chosen yet for the plant.

Mob Hangs Man Who Killed Priest In Bolivian Town

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — An angry mob lynched a drunken bartender for slaying a young American missionary priest who had tried to stop him from serving drinks to minors.

The Rev. William Kruegler, 32, was shot to death Monday night in the patio of his parish house in the Andean village of Montero.

Over the protests of other priests, a mob seized the gunman, Manglio Saravia, dragged him through the streets to the village square and hanged him.

Services were held today for Father Kruegler in Montero and he will be buried at the Maryknoll Roman Catholic mission where he had served for two years.

Father Kruegler, one of 11 children, was a son of Katherine Kruegler and the late Francis A. Kruegler of Troy, N.Y. Two of his sisters are in religious orders.

The young missionary, ordained in 1957, had served most of his five years as a priest in central Bolivia.

Father Kruegler's mission at Montero was only about 100 yards from a saloon. On Monday night he went to the saloon to complain of the noise and appeal to Saravia to stop selling drinks to minors. The priest also went to the police.

The bartender, in a drunken rage, got a gun and sought out the priest and shot him five times.

Beaver County Gets Drought Aid Ruling

Beaver County is among eight additional Pennsylvania counties for which federal farm controls have been eased because of drought conditions. Forty-nine in all had been so designated.

The Beaver Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said farmers will now be permitted to graze livestock and cut hay on land retired under the conservation reserve, feed grain and wheat stabilization diverted acreage programs. The privileges on the diverted acreage will terminate Aug. 31, the ASC said at Beaver.

Gasoline Tax Refunds Due Hancock Farmers

Deadline for Hancock County farmers to claim refunds of federal taxes on gasoline used on farms is Oct. 1, Oliver Johnson, county agricultural agent, reminded.

Claims may be filed for gasoline purchased after July 1, 1961, and before July 1 of this year. The federal tax refund is 4-cents a gallon. Instructions and applications are available at Johnson's office in New Cumberland.

Johnson also reported that the Agricultural Extension Service Office has been presented a bound copy of a thesis prepared by Miss Helen Petrakis, former county 4-H Club agent, for her master's degree at the University of Wisconsin. Entitled "Four-H Club Members' Perception of a Method Demonstration," the study was comprised of data supplied by county club members.

judge ordered the club to triple the size of the men's restroom and to hire a policeman to patrol the premises from 9 p. m. to 1 a. m. The judge stipulated East Liverpool authorities were to select the officer with the club to pay for his service. He then set $5,000 bond in case of appeal.

He refused to grant the prosecutor's request to padlock the club, an action instituted by Municipal Judge Sam Chertoff, who cited a series of liquor violations and trouble at the Pennsylvania Ave. night spot.

Club officials advised the judge late Friday they had been unable to arrange for the services of a policeman and the judge lowered the bond but warned the curfew still stands pending further court action.

Drill Team Needs More Funds For Convention Trip

Extra funds are needed by the drill squad of Wellsville VFW Post 9285 to enter the national competition next week but Kenneth Carter, team president, said today members have stated they will make a supreme effort to make the trip.

The national convention will be Sunday through Aug. 17 at St. Paul, Minn., with the national drill contest slated for Tuesday at 9 a. m. at the University of Minnesota.

The squad has raised about $500 from a Tag Day, individual donations and prize money at district parades.

Carter said at least $855 would be needed to make the trip and attend all of the convention. He said the men were going to leave Friday but have delayed until Sunday to save expenses.

It was first thought that money would be received from the Department of Ohio, but the squad learned Wednesday night no Ohio units will receive any aid this year.

The team was counting on this appropriation, Carter commented.

The squad already holds the state championship and has won the first prize at many district parades. New uniforms were purchased recently for the national competition.

Carter said anyone still desiring to make a donation can send the money to Post Office Box 213 at Wellsville or contact any member of the squad.

Stanley ran to call police. Midnight ran home.

Several attempts to capture the deer were unsuccessful. Finally it leaped out the window and hasn't been seen since.

The car door received $60 damage, Beaver Falls police said.

William F. Ross, 27, of 131½ W. 6th St. wrecked his car when he missed an intersection in White Township near Beaver Falls about 12:45 a. m. today but escaped unhurt. Police said Ross plunged down a small bank and loosened about 60 feet of chain fence on the Robert Gillespie property.

Drill Team Needs More Funds For Convention Trip

Extra funds are needed by the drill squad of Wellsville VFW Post 9285 to enter the national competition next week but Kenneth Carter, team president, said today members have stated they will make a supreme effort to make the trip.

The national convention will be Sunday through Aug. 17 at St. Paul, Minn., with the national drill contest slated for Tuesday at 9 a. m. at the University of Minnesota.

The squad has raised about $500 from a Tag Day, individual donations and prize money at district parades.

Carter said at least $855 would be needed to make the trip and attend all of the convention. He said the men were going to leave Friday but have delayed until Sunday to save expenses.

It was first thought that money would be received from the Department of Ohio, but the squad learned Wednesday night no Ohio units will receive any aid this year.

The team was counting on this appropriation, Carter commented.

The squad already holds the state championship and has won the first prize at many district parades. New uniforms were purchased recently for the national competition.

Carter said anyone still desiring to make a donation can send the money to Post Office Box 213 at Wellsville or contact any member of the squad.

Young Stag Deer Jumps Into Office

WICHITA (AP) — A newspaper carrier, Stanley W. Brown, 17, and his dog, Midnight, were startled by a crash and tinkling glass as they made their rounds early one morning.

Brown stared at the broken window of the office of Charles F. Curry & Co., and could see a young stag deer bounding around inside, jumping upon and over desks and chairs.

Stanley ran to call police. Midnight ran home.

Several attempts to capture the deer were unsuccessful. Finally it leaped out the window and hasn't been seen since.

2 City Cars Involved In Beaver Accidents

Autos of two East Liverpool men figured in separate traffic accidents in Beaver County Wednesday and early today.

Roddy Evans, 13, of Beaver Falls, riding a bicycle, pedaled into the opened door of the car of Paul N. Seckman, 33, of 1504 Lisbon St., after he had stopped to get out while in Beaver Falls Wednesday about 1:33 p. m. The boy's mother was to take him to a physician for examination of a chest bruise. The car door received $60 damage, Beaver Falls police said.

William F. Ross, 27, of 131½ W. 6th St. wrecked his car when he missed an intersection in White Township near Beaver Falls about 12:45 a. m. today but escaped unhurt. Police said Ross plunged down a small bank and loosened about 60 feet of chain fence on the Robert Gillespie property.

Hard Storm Hits Licking Districts

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Parts of Licking County were without electric service hours after lines were ruptured as part of general havoc wreaked by a flash windrain storm in the area Wednesday night.

Winds up to 50 to 60 miles an hour rustled through Newark's West Side, suburban Heath, Granville and the Buckeye Lake area, which also juts into Fairfield and Perry counties. Heavy rains accompanied the gusts.

Tree limbs and power lines were felled in several places. Lightning struck the Russell Prince farmhouse at Amsterdam, five miles east of Hebron, causing it to burn to the ground.

Occupants of two sailboats had to be pulled from Buckeye Lake by other boaters after their craft capsized in the storm. Electricity was reported out in the Buckeye Lake Amusement Park area, Thornville, Thornport, Granville and Heath.

In Granville, the Denison University Summer Theater was forced to cancel a performace for the first time in its 16-year history—no lights.

A flying laboratory loaded with electronic equipment, the plane was assigned to the Aeronautical Systems Division at Wright-Patterson and was being flown to Bedford, 12 miles west of Boston for modification of test equipment.

Ohio Performer Buys Kentucky TV Station

NEWPORT, Ky. (AP) — Dean Miller, a Hamilton, Ohio, native who found success as a television performer, has bought his second radio station—WNOP in Newport, a greater Cincinnati daytime outlet.

The purchase Wednesday also included rights to UHF TV channel 74 held by WNOP since 1953.

Miller, who was star of a TV series "December Bride" and master of ceremonies in "Here's Hollywood," bought WLMH in Jackson, Ohio, in January 1960.

No purchase prices was announced in Wednesday's transaction, but a spokesman said Miller planned to do a program of his own from 6-11 a.m.

The first fall business meeting will be held Sept. 4, at 8 o'clock at the Presentation Catholic Church lyceum.

Hard Storm Hits Licking Districts

NEWARK, Ohio (AP)—Parts of Licking County were without electric service hours after lines were ruptured as part of general havoc wreaked by a flash windrain storm in the area Wednesday night.

Winds up to 50 to 60 miles an hour rustled through Newark's West Side, suburban Heath, Granville and the Buckeye Lake area, which also juts into Fairfield and Perry counties. Heavy rains accompanied the gusts.

Tree limbs and power lines were felled in several places. Lightning struck the Russell Prince farmhouse at Amsterdam, five miles east of Hebron, causing it to burn to the ground.

Occupants of two sailboats had to be pulled from Buckeye Lake by other boaters after their craft capsized in the storm. Electricity was reported out in the Buckeye Lake Amusement Park area, Thornville, Thornport, Granville and Heath.

In Granville, the Denison University Summer Theater was forced to cancel a performace for the first time in its 16-year history—no lights.

There is only one doctor for about every 750 people in the United States, and about 80 per cent of today's medical students plan to become specialists.

3 Injured When Auto Rolls Over

Three men were injured in an auto wreck on Route 7 about seven-tenths of a mile north of Rogers at 3:10 a. m. today, according to the Lisbon State Highway Patrol.

Fentules told officers he swerved to avoid a truck parked on the highway. The car went out of control to the left side of the highway and then back to the right before overturning.

Fentules, who was cited for speeding in excess of road conditions, suffered abrasions and lacerations of the left hand and bruises of the chest and ribs.

His passengers were Anthony Pasqual, 27, who suffered abrasions of the right leg and bruises of the ribs, and Andy Gabrish, 17, both of Hubbard, who received contusions of the head. All were treated at Salem City Hospital.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am in sympathy with "In Sympathy." She was the long-suffering physician's wife who wrote to say her husband had to give up going to church on Sunday because he was constantly pestered by people who wanted curbstone opinions and free medical advice.

A dear friend of mine solved this problem in this manner:

The town bore who was notorious for chiseling everything and anything, collared this good-natured doctor at a cocktail party. She pulled him into a corner and began to describe in detail the shooting pains in her hip and leg.

The doctor looked her square in the eye, and in his most professional way said, "Undress."

That did it. The woman has never gone near him since.—WANDERING TEXAN.

Dear Texan: I'm glad it worked for him but I wouldn't recommend this technique for everyone. Some women would be only too happy to take him at his word!

Irked By Mimic

Dear Ann: What do you think about a man getting up at a party and doing an imitation of the President of the United States?

He messed up his hair and pinned his suitcoat in the back so it would fit tight. He folded up his pants cuffs so they'd be short. Then he began to speak with an exaggerated Eastern accent, emphasizing such words as Democratic "pah-ty," "Cuber" and "Afriker". Everyone was in stitches.

I felt it was in bad taste and not the least big, funny. After all, the presidency is the highest office of the land. When I didn't laugh along with the others I was told that I lack a sense of humor.

What is your opinion?—D.L.

Dear D.L.: One of the hallmarks of a healthy democracy is that we can poke fun at the highest office of the land and not be afraid of a knock at the door.

The Roosevelts were probably the most imitated Americans of the century because they were distinctive individuals. It is well known that the Roosevelts were vastly amused by these imitations. I'm sure President Kennedy would laugh loudest if he could see some of the imitations of himself.

Suspicious Fiancee

Dear Ann: I'm a young man who needs an unbiased opinion. The girl I'm in love with has some wonderful qualities. She wants to get married but I'm afraid of her suspicious nature.

Ruth came from a broken home. Her father cheated on her mother left and right. You can understand why she doesn't have much faith in men.

I'm not the cheating kind and have not even looked sideways at another girl since we became pinned last year. Yet she doesn't take my word for anything. She phones the bowling alley to make sure I'm there. She calls my apartment and asks my roommate if he knows where I am after I've told her exactly where I plan to be. She has phoned my parents' home (long distance) to make sure I didn't go somewhere.

Ruth is 22. Do you think she'll outgrow this or will she be this way forever? I don't think I could stand a wife who was always checking.—BRUCE.

Dear Bruce: Understanding why she is like this helps but it's no cure. This girl needs professional help.

If she is reluctant to explore the problem with a specialist you would be wise to unwind the romance—or prepare for a life of hunting and checking.

Individuals who are suspicious without cause sometimes develop overactive imaginations. After a while they are unable to separate fact from fiction. Then it's too late.

Risky Glue Sniffing Spreads, U.S. Health Service Reports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Glue sniffing—a funny-sounding but dangerous teen-age method for getting a jag—apparently is an increasing nationwide problem, says the U.S. Public Health Service.

Henry L. Verhulst, chief of the service's poison control branch, said today the unit has twice alerted public health officials through its bulletins to the situation and the possibly serious consequences to the young thrill-hunters.

The first alert was given in December 1960. A second more detailed report was contained in the bulletin of last February-March.

The report commented that the inhaling of fumes from plastic cement—such as used in making model planes—continues to be a frequently encountered form of aberrant behavior among teenagers.

The service pointed out glue-sniffing episodes in Chicago, Texas, California, Colorado, Salt Lake City, Arizona and Washington, D.C. Also there have been published reports recently of similar incidents in Miami and New York.

Verhulst said the episodes clearly indicate the problem is nationwide though there are no specific statistics as to its prevalence.

Both the bulletin and a July 28 article in the Journal of the American Medical Association noted the fumes are potentially injurious to liver, kidneys, brain and bone marrow.

"It seems clear that such inhalation can cause a syndrome resembling acute alcoholic intoxication, and it remains unclear as to whether or not repeated inhalations can result in chronic toxicity," the bulletin said.

In Miami recently, sheriff's officers broke up five young gangs as a result of investigations into car thefts and burglaries. Officers reported many of the 33 boys arrested had been sniffing glue.

Drs. Helen H. Glaser and Oliver N. Massengale of the University of Colorado Medical Center reported in the AMA Journal on a study of the situation primarily in the Denver area.

They found the number of arrests of young glue sniffers involved in crimes increased in Denver from 30 in 1960 to 134 in 1961.

All but six of those arrested were boys and the average age was 13.

A call to his widow disclosed that it was Sights' ring, which his widow lost while playing in the snow in 1920.

Joe G. Smith of San Mateo, Calif., became concerned when he learned that of the 1,650,000 Smiths on file at Social Security headquarters in Woodlawn, Md., 12,000 of them were named Joe Smith.

Joe G. decided to make sure his records weren't being mixed up with the other Smiths. So while on vacation—he's an airline sales coordinator—he traveled to Woodlawn with his wife and two children.

They were given a personally escorted tour of Social Security headquarters, and Joe G. was assured by officials that he is identified by number as well as name, and that electronic computers keep the records straight.

Joe G. decided to make sure his records weren't being mixed up with the other Smiths. So while on vacation—he's an airline sales coordinator—he traveled to Woodlawn with his wife and two children.

They were given a personally escorted tour of Social Security headquarters, and Joe G. was assured by officials that he is identified by number as well as name, and that electronic computers keep the records straight.

Tax

wasn't scheduled to return until this afternoon, Winters said, too late for the Trades Council to examine the petitions.

Acting on Cooper's opinion that the four false affidavits made each of the petitions, containing 90 names apiece, invalid, the auditor declined to certify the initiative ordinance to the County Election Board because the petition contained only 703 valid signatures. A total of 876 were required for a ballot place.

The false affidavits eliminated 360 names and other discrepancies barred 89 more signatures, leaving the petition 173 names short of the number required for a ballot place.

The tax has been in effect since City Council enacted it in March. Trades Council then voted to seek a ballot test.

Negroes Get New Hope In Georgia Case

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Federal intervention in Albany's long and bitter integration fight renewed the hopes of Negro leaders today after city officials again slammed the door on biracial talks.

Clergymen from other states continued a pilgrimage to Albany, joining local Negroes and about a dozen outside organizations in the sustained desegregation thrust.

The first demonstration in three days came Wednesday in the form of a lunch counter sit-in, resulting in the arrest of two Negroes. There have been more than 1,200 arrests since last December, with 403 during the past month.

Long-sought federal help materialized Wednesday in the closing hours of a seven-day hearing on the city's effort to outlaw marches, boycotting, picketing and other protest activities.

The attorneys questioned Elliott's jurisdiction and said even if he had authority to proceed, injunctive action "would still be precluded by fundamental principles of equity."

City officials, the brief contended, should be required to comply with desegregation rulings "before the court further considers the complaint."

The hearing ended with Elliott announcing: "At this moment, I'm not sure exactly when I will decide this case. It might be within a couple of days, within a week or within a month."

Boy

James M. Wright Jr., 16, of Globe St. and William Henrich, 18, also of Price St. Ext.

Vohar was carrying his rifle muzzle down on a sling on his left shoulder. His jacket started to slip and as he reached over to catch it, the muzzle of the rifle swung in against his thigh.

Wright then commented that he didn't think the safety - catch was on and reached for Vohar's rifle. He apparently touched the trigger, discharging the bullet, the family said.

Wright went for aid at the Fisher Farm while Henrich stayed with Vohar and applied a tourniquet to stem the heavy flow of blood. Vohar was taken to the Fisher Farm by a pickup truck and then on to the hospital by William Henrich, father of the other youth.

Henrich had notified his father and others of the mishap when he went for aid.

St. Clair Township Constable Robert Jones investigated. The Columbiana County sheriff's office was notified.

Candidates

was the only candidate to file for the short term. The candidates were required to list the term they sought in their nominating petitions.

All county residents will vote on the court candidates with the exception of East Liverpool and Liverpool Township residents. Voters in those subdivisions are within the jurisdiction of Municipal Court.

Meanwhile, Mayor William Daugherty, Council President Mary Rahter and Councilman Dwight MacLean, the sponsoring committee, has asked the County Election Board for permission to withdraw an initiative petition it filed this week to force a vote on a bond issue to construct a Wellsville City Hall.

In its letter, the committee noted Council has certified a $250,000 bond issue to the election board, asking a vote at the Nov. 6 general election. The committee said the initiative petition would not serve any purpose.

City Auditor Edgar S. Davidson certified the initiative petition Monday and Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, Council clerk, certified Council's resolution a few hours later.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the election board will meet Tuesday to check the sufficiency of the nominating petitions for the county court judge candidates, open bids for ballots and act on the committee's letter asking withdrawal of the petition.

The board has turned over $97.55 in filing fees from the judge candidates to County Auditor Kenneth Bell, O'Hanlon added.

Atty. Dickson, 38, operates a 230-acre farm in Unity Township and is a life-long resident of the county. He has been a practicing attorney for eight years in East Palestine, since 1959 under the general law firm of Dickson and Loshinsky.

He was graduated from Springfield Township High School in Petersburg, received a bachelor of arts degree from Western Reserve University, and a law degree from Youngstown University's College of Law in 1954.

A veteran, he served in the Army Engineers in the Pacific area in 1943-46, and in Korea in 1956.

In East Palestine civic affairs, Dickson is director and president of the Area Chamber of Commerce, former director of the Jaycees, and is a member of the American Legion, VFW, and local and state bar associations, and vice president of the East Palestine and Unity Township Historical Society.

Atty. Dickson is married to the former Virginia Eppinger of Cleveland. They have two daughters.

Negroes Get New Hope In Georgia Case

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Federal intervention in Albany's long and bitter integration fight renewed the hopes of Negro leaders today after city officials again slammed the door on biracial talks.

Clergymen from other states continued a pilgrimage to Albany, joining local Negroes and about a dozen outside organizations in the sustained desegregation thrust.

The first demonstration in three days came Wednesday in the form of a lunch counter sit-in, resulting in the arrest of two Negroes. There have been more than 1,200 arrests since last December, with 403 during the past month.

Long-sought federal help materialized Wednesday in the closing hours of a seven-day hearing on the city's effort to outlaw marches, boycotting, picketing and other protest activities.

The attorneys questioned Elliott's jurisdiction and said even if he had authority to proceed, injunctive action "would still be precluded by fundamental principles of equity."

City officials, the brief contended, should be required to comply with desegregation rulings "before the court further considers the complaint."

The hearing ended with Elliott announcing: "At this moment, I'm not sure exactly when I will decide this case. It might be within a couple of days, within a week or within a month."

Boy

James M. Wright Jr., 16, of Globe St. and William Henrich, 18, also of Price St. Ext.

Vohar was carrying his rifle muzzle down on a sling on his left shoulder. His jacket started to slip and as he reached over to catch it, the muzzle of the rifle swung in against his thigh.

Wright then commented that he didn't think the safety - catch was on and reached for Vohar's rifle. He apparently touched the trigger, discharging the bullet, the family said.

Wright went for aid at the Fisher Farm while Henrich stayed with Vohar and applied a tourniquet to stem the heavy flow of blood. Vohar was taken to the Fisher Farm by a pickup truck and then on to the hospital by William Henrich, father of the other youth.

Henrich had notified his father and others of the mishap when he went for aid.

St. Clair Township Constable Robert Jones investigated. The Columbiana County sheriff's office was notified.

Tax

wasn't scheduled to return until this afternoon, Winters said, too late for the Trades Council to examine the petitions.

Acting on Cooper's opinion that the four false affidavits made each of the petitions, containing 90 names apiece, invalid, the auditor declined to certify the initiative ordinance to the County Election Board because the petition contained only 703 valid signatures. A total of 876 were required for a ballot place.

The false affidavits eliminated 360 names and other discrepancies barred 89 more signatures, leaving the petition 173 names short of the number required for a ballot place.

The tax has been in effect since City Council enacted it in March. Trades Council then voted to seek a ballot test.

was the only candidate to file for the short term. The candidates were required to list the term they sought in their nominating petitions.

All county residents will vote on the court candidates with the exception of East Liverpool and Liverpool Township residents. Voters in those subdivisions are within the jurisdiction of Municipal Court.

Meanwhile, Mayor William Daugherty, Council President Mary Rahter and Councilman Dwight MacLean, the sponsoring committee, has asked the County Election Board for permission to withdraw an initiative petition it filed this week to force a vote on a bond issue to construct a Wellsville City Hall.

In its letter, the committee noted Council has certified a $250,000 bond issue to the election board, asking a vote at the Nov. 6 general election. The committee said the initiative petition would not serve any purpose.

City Auditor Edgar S. Davidson certified the initiative petition Monday and Mrs. Margaret Baldwin, Council clerk, certified Council's resolution a few hours later.

Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said the election board will meet Tuesday to check the sufficiency of the nominating petitions for the county court judge candidates, open bids for ballots and act on the committee's letter asking withdrawal of the petition.

The board has turned over $97.55 in filing fees from the judge candidates to County Auditor Kenneth Bell, O'Hanlon added.

Atty. Dickson, 38, operates a 230-acre farm in Unity Township and is a life-long resident of the county. He has been a practicing attorney for eight years in East Palestine, since 1959 under the general law firm of Dickson and Loshinsky.

He was graduated from Springfield Township High School in Petersburg, received a bachelor of arts degree from Western Reserve University, and a law degree from Youngstown University's College of Law in 1954.

A veteran, he served in the Army Engineers in the Pacific area in 1943-46, and in Korea in 1956.

In East Palestine civic affairs, Dickson is director and president of the Area Chamber of Commerce, former director of the Jaycees, and is a member of the American Legion, VFW, and local and state bar associations, and vice president of the East Palestine and Unity Township Historical Society.

Silliman's 2 Home Runs Carry Pony Leaguers To Title Game

Championship Tilt Today

The East Liverpool Pony Leaguers, who don't know defeat when its staring them right in the face, battled today for the Section 3 Pony League championship after winning a dramatic 10-8 contest from Upper Kanawha Wednesday at Parkersburg.

East Liverpool and Upper Kanawha were to meet at 11:30 (East Liverpool time) this morning in the title game. The championship contest was to be played Wednesday after the first game but was rained out. The winner of today's game advances to New Kensington, Pa. next week for the regional tourney.

RAIN might have saved the day for the weary East Liverpool team which has been pulling games out of the fire all week.

All through the tournament, the game bunch of East Liverpool players have had different heroes and Wednesday the honor went to Mike Silliman.

With Upper Kanawha in front 8-7 and two outs in the last of the seventh Silliman stepped up and clubbed his second home run of the game over the rightfield fence with two teammates on base to give East Liverpool the 10-8 victory in a Frank Merriwell finish.

BEFORE that Silliman had hit a two-run homer that traveled far over the leftfield fence to tie the game at 7-7.

East Liverpool was behind 7-1 going into the last of the fifth inning Wednesday but exploded with six runs to tie the count at 7-7.

Larry Ensinger ignited the attack with an infield single and catcher Clarence Crable, who had been nursing a sore hand before yesterday's game, followed with another base hit.

JOE Massey belted a run scoring double then Bob Burkhart stepped up and sent a home run over the centerfield fence to pull East Liverpool within two runs, 7-5. With two outs, Nick Marchbanks, another hitting star for East Liverpool, started the rally again and Silliman followed with his roundtripper to give the Ohioans new life.

The seventh inning opened when Burkhart led off with a double but was thrown out at third on a ground ball. Len Walker forced Golden at second for the second out but Marchbanks slapped his fourth consecutive hit of the game to set the stage for Silliman.

Walker, who pitched East Liverpool to its first tournament victory over Bellaire Monday was the winning hurler.

LA Returns To AL Flag Race

Angels Win Pair As Yanks Split; Allen Homers In Twins Loss To A's

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

These Los Angeles Angels just won't cooperate at all. Just keep doing things their own way.

"They'll never last," said experts as Bill Rigney somehow placed his oddly assorted crew of heroes on the heels of the American League-leading Yankees. But they clung there, week after week.

"See," chortled the pundits late last month when the Angels went into a mild slump, the Yankees got hot and Los Angeles quietly slipped back to third.

"Be lucky if they can hold third," the line went.

But now, all of a sudden, the Angels are back in second place, trail New York by 4½ games and once again have to be considered a major factor in the race.

They regained second by sweeping a doubleheader at Chicago, 5-1 and 7-5 while Kansas City chalked up its sixth straight victory, a 4-3 triumph over Minnesota. The Yanks split a pair with Baltimore, winning the first 3-2 and losing the nightcap 4-3. Boston beat Cleveland 6-0 while Detroit took a pair from Washington, 6-5 and 10-3.

At Kansas City, Ed Charles stole home with the winning run with two out in the ninth inning as the A's dropped Minnesota to third. Hermon Killebrew's 30th homer of the season had tied it for the Twins in the top of the ninth.

Bernie Allen hit his tenth home run of the season Wednesday night in a losing cause to Kansas City.

Bill Skowron's two-out single in the ninth drove in Roger Maris with the winning run as the Yanks won the first against Baltimore. Marshall Bridges (5-0) got credit for the victory after taking over in relief in the ninth.

Baltimore won the nightcap on a four-run fifth inning and four innings of no-hit relief pitching by veteran lefty Billy Hoeft.

Gene Conley (10-10) struck out six, walked only two and retired 13 men in order over one stretch in pitching Boston past Cleveland. Gary Geiger led the Red Sox attack.

Detroit rushed in four runs in the first inning, built around Vic Wertz' homer, then got two more on Norm Cash's 31st homer in the fourth in the first-game victory over Washington.

A 15-hit attack made it easy for Phil Regan (6-8) to go the distance for the Tiger triumph in the second game.

Barber May Be Lost To Orioles For Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles may have lost their ace left-hander, Steve Barber, for the remainder of the American League season.

President Lee MacPhail, here with the club for the series with the Yankees, was notified Wednesday that the 23-year-old pitcher has mononucleosis.

"It is a mild case but it is a glandular infection which affects the glands throughout the body," Dr. Erwin Mayer, the team physician, reported to MacPhail. "He must rest and avoid any exercise."

Canton Grid Hall Of Fame To Break Ground Saturday

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Back in 1920 in a dimly lit garage the National Football League was born here. Franchises currently worth millions were a paltry $100.

Now at a peak of popularity after more than two score years of ups and downs professional football pauses Saturday to start construction of a sanctuary for some of its most highly prized players and possessions.

Pete Rozelle, youthful commissioner of the NFL, will turn the first spadeful of earth at 10 a.m. on the spot where an ultra modern hall of fame will rise within a year.

This community, football hotbed for half a century, raised $399,000 from 1,100 donors for the new structure. Each league team gave $1,000. The building will cost $366,000, not counting the ornate furnishing, and an annual budget of some $70,000 will perpetuate the shrine.

From all over the country exhibits of the olden golden days of the game have been pouring in to Dick McCann, $20,000-per-year director of the hall of fame who served 16 years as general manager of the Washington Redskins. All will have their place in the hall to be constructed on a 16-acre park plot just north of the city's Fawcett Stadium.

Saturday's festivities wind up under the Fawcett Stadium lights as the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals stage their first exhibition game of the season. Each club gets a $15,000 guarantee, but McCann said the hall of fame should wind up with at least a $35,000 profit from the $5-per-ticket gate.

A selection committee to name the hall of famers is being set up among newspaper, radio and television personnel in each of the NFL cities. The first entrants, probably 11, will be enshrined next year as the Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh Steelers meet here in an early season exhibition.

Close Contest Predicted For North-South Classic

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Rival captains came up with victory predictions today as Ohio's North-South squads tapered off for Friday night's 17th annual high school all-star football game.

Ken Ivan, Massillon's two-way, All - Ohio end and one of the North's three captains, said: "we look for a tough game, but the better conditioned team will come out on top and we are in better condition."

Speaking for the Rebel cause, co-captain Tom Barrington of Lima Senior, an offensive halfback and defensive linebacker, said, "We've got a good chance. We have a fine team, the boys are working together, morale is high and we have a lot of respect for our coaches."

Co-captain John Palmer of Kettering Fairmont, a two-way end, said: "It looks like a close one, but the South can take it just like we did a year ago. We've got some go-getters with a lot of desire."

The rival coaches, Southerner Bob Wion of Martins Ferry and Yankee Bill Van Brocklin of Poland, refused to pick a winner. Each said it looked so close that a break could decide it either way.

One thing appeared certain. The South had a heavy weight advantage and the North was conceded an edge in speed. The South will operate from the straight - T formation and the North from the winged-T.

The week-long clinic held in connection with the game attracted 431 coaches from 24 states and more than 60 were college mentors. It is the largest clinic in the event's 17 years.

Dodgers Push Lead To 5½ As Mets Help

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

At age 15 Joe Nuxhall exchanged his knickers for a major league uniform. Now, 19 years and some gray hairs later, the knuckleballing left-hander has turned into somewhat of a phenomena again for the Cincinnati Reds.

The 34-year-old veteran, reclaimed from the minors recently, hurled 7 1-3 innings of shutout ball before giving way to relief ace Jim Brosnan as the third-place Reds made it three consecutive whitewash jobs against Houston with a 4-0 triumph.

The National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers moved 5½ games in front by making the most of four hits for a 3-1 triumph over Philadelphia while the New York Mets used the home-run weapon to subdue second-place San Francisco 5-2.

Elsewhere in the NL, Bob Gibson's fourth shutout, a three-hitter, gave St. Louis a 2-0 triumph over Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Cubs belted Milwaukee 12-4.

The Dodgers went ahead to stay in the second when Johnny Roseboro homered after a single by Frank Howard and closed out the scoring when Maury Wills singled, stole second and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Willia Davis. Stan Williams (11-7) won it. Jack Hamilton (6-10) was the loser.

Frank Thomas and Felix Mantilla each hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning, and that was enough for the Mets as Roger Craig (7-17) went the distance and checked the Giants on seven hits. It was Thomas' 27th homer. Orlando Cepeda hit his 22nd for San Francisco and Harvey Kuenn hit his sixth but it wasn't enough for Bob Bolin (6-2).

Gibson (14-8) walked only two while striking out 10 in beating the Pirates and Al McBean (11-8). McBean lost it when the Cardinals pushed across the game's runs on an error in the sixth.

A 14-hit attack, including home runs by Ernie Banks, No. 28, and Ron Santo did the damage for the Cubs while Glen Hobbie (4-11) limited the Braves to seven hits. The loser was Bob Hendley (8-8).

Wills Eyes Record For Stolen Bases

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Maury Wills, the nation's largest independent steal producer, predicted today he will break the National League record for stolen bases.

Last year, when he led the league with 35 steals, the little Dodger shortstop was permitted to run only when he got an okay from his bench. This season Dodger Manager Walt Alston granted Wills independence.

Now, 60 stolen bases later, Wills needs only 21 more steals to surpass the league record established 51 years ago by Bob Bescher of Cincinnati.

"I think I can make it now," Wills said. "I'm not going to run to hurt the club, but I'm not going to stop running just because the club happens to be way ahead in a game and we don't need the extra base.

"I'm so close. And I don't think I'll ever have this chance again."

How about Ty Cobb's major league record of 96 stolen bases?

"I'll let you know how I feel about that," Wills said, "when I get to 80."

Championship Tilt Today

The East Liverpool Pony Leaguers, who don't know defeat when its staring them right in the face, battled today for the Section 3 Pony League championship after winning a dramatic 10-8 contest from Upper Kanawha Wednesday at Parkersburg.

East Liverpool and Upper Kanawha were to meet at 11:30 (East Liverpool time) this morning in the title game. The championship contest was to be played Wednesday after the first game but was rained out. The winner of today's game advances to New Kensington, Pa. next week for the regional tourney.

RAIN might have saved the day for the weary East Liverpool team which has been pulling games out of the fire all week.

All through the tournament, the game bunch of East Liverpool players have had different heroes and Wednesday the honor went to Mike Silliman.

With Upper Kanawha in front 8-7 and two outs in the last of the seventh Silliman stepped up and clubbed his second home run of the game over the rightfield fence with two teammates on base to give East Liverpool the 10-8 victory in a Frank Merriwell finish.

BEFORE that Silliman had hit a two-run homer that traveled far over the leftfield fence to tie the game at 7-7.

East Liverpool was behind 7-1 going into the last of the fifth inning Wednesday but exploded with six runs to tie the count at 7-7.

Larry Ensinger ignited the attack with an infield single and catcher Clarence Crable, who had been nursing a sore hand before yesterday's game, followed with another base hit.

JOE Massey belted a run scoring double then Bob Burkhart stepped up and sent a home run over the centerfield fence to pull East Liverpool within two runs, 7-5. With two outs, Nick Marchbanks, another hitting star for East Liverpool, started the rally again and Silliman followed with his roundtripper to give the Ohioans new life.

The seventh inning opened when Burkhart led off with a double but was thrown out at third on a ground ball. Len Walker forced Golden at second for the second out but Marchbanks slapped his fourth consecutive hit of the game to set the stage for Silliman.

Walker, who pitched East Liverpool to its first tournament victory over Bellaire Monday was the winning hurler.

Angels Win Pair As Yanks Split; Allen Homers In Twins Loss To A's

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

These Los Angeles Angels just won't cooperate at all. Just keep doing things their own way.

"They'll never last," said experts as Bill Rigney somehow placed his oddly assorted crew of heroes on the heels of the American League-leading Yankees. But they clung there, week after week.

"See," chortled the pundits late last month when the Angels went into a mild slump, the Yankees got hot and Los Angeles quietly slipped back to third.

"Be lucky if they can hold third," the line went.

But now, all of a sudden, the Angels are back in second place, trail New York by 4½ games and once again have to be considered a major factor in the race.

They regained second by sweeping a doubleheader at Chicago, 5-1 and 7-5 while Kansas City chalked up its sixth straight victory, a 4-3 triumph over Minnesota. The Yanks split a pair with Baltimore, winning the first 3-2 and losing the nightcap 4-3. Boston beat Cleveland 6-0 while Detroit took a pair from Washington, 6-5 and 10-3.

At Kansas City, Ed Charles stole home with the winning run with two out in the ninth inning as the A's dropped Minnesota to third. Hermon Killebrew's 30th homer of the season had tied it for the Twins in the top of the ninth.

Bernie Allen hit his tenth home run of the season Wednesday night in a losing cause to Kansas City.

Bill Skowron's two-out single in the ninth drove in Roger Maris with the winning run as the Yanks won the first against Baltimore. Marshall Bridges (5-0) got credit for the victory after taking over in relief in the ninth.

Baltimore won the nightcap on a four-run fifth inning and four innings of no-hit relief pitching by veteran lefty Billy Hoeft.

Gene Conley (10-10) struck out six, walked only two and retired 13 men in order over one stretch in pitching Boston past Cleveland. Gary Geiger led the Red Sox attack.

Detroit rushed in four runs in the first inning, built around Vic Wertz' homer, then got two more on Norm Cash's 31st homer in the fourth in the first-game victory over Washington.

A 15-hit attack made it easy for Phil Regan (6-8) to go the distance for the Tiger triumph in the second game.

Barber May Be Lost To Orioles For Season

President Lee MacPhail, here with the club for the series with the Yankees, was notified Wednesday that the 23-year-old pitcher has mononucleosis.

"It is a mild case but it is a glandular infection which affects the glands throughout the body," Dr. Erwin Mayer, the team physician, reported to MacPhail. "He must rest and avoid any exercise."

Water Ski Event Set

CELINA, Ohio (AP) — Grand Lake St. Marys will be the scene this weekend of a 12-state water ski competition which will qualify winners for the national tournament at Pine Mountain, Ga. Among 125 contestants in the Midwest regional, running Friday through Sunday, will be mixed doubles champions Candy Smith and Ray Shearer of Hamilton.

Bud Olsen, No. 2 draft choice of the Cincinnati Royals, outscored 23 of 25 collegiate centers he opposed as a senior at the University of Louisville last season.

Canton Grid Hall Of Fame To Break Ground Saturday

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Back in 1920 in a dimly lit garage the National Football League was born here. Franchises currently worth millions were a paltry $100.

Now at a peak of popularity after more than two score years of ups and downs professional football pauses Saturday to start construction of a sanctuary for some of its most highly prized players and possessions.

Pete Rozelle, youthful commissioner of the NFL, will turn the first spadeful of earth at 10 a.m. on the spot where an ultra modern hall of fame will rise within a year.

This community, football hotbed for half a century, raised $399,000 from 1,100 donors for the new structure. Each league team gave $1,000. The building will cost $366,000, not counting the ornate furnishing, and an annual budget of some $70,000 will perpetuate the shrine.

From all over the country exhibits of the olden golden days of the game have been pouring in to Dick McCann, $20,000-per-year director of the hall of fame who served 16 years as general manager of the Washington Redskins. All will have their place in the hall to be constructed on a 16-acre park plot just north of the city's Fawcett Stadium.

Saturday's festivities wind up under the Fawcett Stadium lights as the New York Giants and St. Louis Cardinals stage their first exhibition game of the season. Each club gets a $15,000 guarantee, but McCann said the hall of fame should wind up with at least a $35,000 profit from the $5-per-ticket gate.

A selection committee to name the hall of famers is being set up among newspaper, radio and television personnel in each of the NFL cities. The first entrants, probably 11, will be enshrined next year as the Cleveland Browns and Pittsburgh Steelers meet here in an early season exhibition.

Close Contest Predicted For North-South Classic

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CANTON, Ohio (AP) — Rival captains came up with victory predictions today as Ohio's North-South squads tapered off for Friday night's 17th annual high school all-star football game.

Ken Ivan, Massillon's two-way, All - Ohio end and one of the North's three captains, said: "we look for a tough game, but the better conditioned team will come out on top and we are in better condition."

Speaking for the Rebel cause, co-captain Tom Barrington of Lima Senior, an offensive halfback and defensive linebacker, said, "We've got a good chance. We have a fine team, the boys are working together, morale is high and we have a lot of respect for our coaches."

Co-captain John Palmer of Kettering Fairmont, a two-way end, said: "It looks like a close one, but the South can take it just like we did a year ago. We've got some go-getters with a lot of desire."

The rival coaches, Southerner Bob Wion of Martins Ferry and Yankee Bill Van Brocklin of Poland, refused to pick a winner. Each said it looked so close that a break could decide it either way.

One thing appeared certain. The South had a heavy weight advantage and the North was conceded an edge in speed. The South will operate from the straight - T formation and the North from the winged-T.

The week-long clinic held in connection with the game attracted 431 coaches from 24 states and more than 60 were college mentors. It is the largest clinic in the event's 17 years.

Dodgers Push Lead To 5½ As Mets Help

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

At age 15 Joe Nuxhall exchanged his knickers for a major league uniform. Now, 19 years and some gray hairs later, the knuckleballing left-hander has turned into somewhat of a phenomena again for the Cincinnati Reds.

The 34-year-old veteran, reclaimed from the minors recently, hurled 7 1-3 innings of shutout ball before giving way to relief ace Jim Brosnan as the third-place Reds made it three consecutive whitewash jobs against Houston with a 4-0 triumph.

The National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers moved 5½ games in front by making the most of four hits for a 3-1 triumph over Philadelphia while the New York Mets used the home-run weapon to subdue second-place San Francisco 5-2.

Elsewhere in the NL, Bob Gibson's fourth shutout, a three-hitter, gave St. Louis a 2-0 triumph over Pittsburgh, and the Chicago Cubs belted Milwaukee 12-4.

The Dodgers went ahead to stay in the second when Johnny Roseboro homered after a single by Frank Howard and closed out the scoring when Maury Wills singled, stole second and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Willia Davis. Stan Williams (11-7) won it. Jack Hamilton (6-10) was the loser.

Frank Thomas and Felix Mantilla each hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning, and that was enough for the Mets as Roger Craig (7-17) went the distance and checked the Giants on seven hits. It was Thomas' 27th homer. Orlando Cepeda hit his 22nd for San Francisco and Harvey Kuenn hit his sixth but it wasn't enough for Bob Bolin (6-2).

Gibson (14-8) walked only two while striking out 10 in beating the Pirates and Al McBean (11-8). McBean lost it when the Cardinals pushed across the game's runs on an error in the sixth.

A 14-hit attack, including home runs by Ernie Banks, No. 28, and Ron Santo did the damage for the Cubs while Glen Hobbie (4-11) limited the Braves to seven hits. The loser was Bob Hendley (8-8).

Pro Grid Double Feature Expected To Draw 60,000

CLEVELAND — The largest pre - season football crowd in Cleveland Browns history is now almost certain to be in the lakefront Stadium Saturday evening, Aug. 18, for the first professional football doubleheader ever staged.

Upwards of 60,000 are expected for the Festival of Football program which features the Detroit Lions against the Dallas Cowboys in the 6:30 p. m. opener and the Cleveland Browns versus the Pittsburgh Steelers in the windup at about 9 p. m. This estimate is based on ticket sales which have now passed 35,000 - nearly twice the highest previous pre - season advance.

Downtown Cleveland hotels are offering attractive special rates for the historic weekend. Those participating include the Pick-Carter, Sheraton-Cleveland, Statler - Hilton and Manger.

Both games will be the full 60 minutes but timeouts will be shortened to 45 seconds and even less in the final two minutes of each half when time is frequently called to stop the clock.

Halftime intermissions will be cut to 15 minutes instead of 20 and the interval between the two games will be just long enough to allow the Browns and Steelers to warm up. They'll take the field immediately after the final gun of the Detroit-Dallas contest and remain there for the kick-off.

It'll be a little like homecoming on the field with 12 former Browns listed on the rosters of the visiting clubs. Detroit heads the parade with six including Milt Plum, Tom Watkins, Dave Lloyd, Willie McClung, Jim Gibbons and Dick LeBeau. With Dallas are Billy Howton, Frank Clarke, Sam Baker and Ed Nutting. And with the Steelers, Preston Carpenter and Bob Schnelker.

Reserved seats are $5, $4, and $3, the same as for regular season games.

Metro Charges Tebbets For Ordering Bean Ball

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Charlie Metro, head coach of the Chicago Cubs, accused Milwaukee Manager Birdie Tebbetts of ordering Braves' pitcher Jack Curtis to throw a "bean ball" in the aftermath of a free-for-all Wednesday night. Tebbetts promptiy denied it.

"It was very deliberate," Metro said in the clubhouse after the Cubs had trounced the Braves 12-4. "It was the most flagrant and obvious case of throwing at a hitter I've ever seen.

Metro was referring to a pitch thrown by Curtis in the ninth inning that sent Chicago hurler Glen Hobbie sprawling in the dirt. It was the fourth ball and got by catcher Bob Uecker. Ron Santo, who was on third, started for home and Uecker threw to Curtis who tagged out the Cub player before he got to the plate.

Curtis and Santo then started to tangle and within seconds both benches were emptied as the free-for-all started. Milwaukee third baseman Eddie Mathews grabbed Curtis and Santo and wrestled both to the ground. No one was hurt and Curtis was ejected from the game. Santo's out, however, was the third and the Braves didn't have to replace Curtis.

Metro said that "Tebbets should have been kicked out."

"Why did Tebbetts go to the mound with a 2 and 1 count on Hobbie to talk with Curtis if it wasn't to tell his pitcher to throw at Glen?" he asked.

Tebbets said he gave Curtis no instruction except to get Hobbie out.

"I don't think Curtis deliberately threw at Hobbie," Tebbetts said. "He should not have been thrown out of the game."

Tebbetts pointed out that Hobbie had "dusted off" Henry Aaron in the eighth inning.

The plate umpire Jocko Conlan said that there was "no doubt that he (Curtis) threw at Hobbie." He said he had no chance to give Curtis a warning before he threw him out of the game and that he would include the incident in his report of the game.

Strong Field Tees Off In Akron Classic

Palmer, while shooting a practice round of one-over-par 71 Wednesday was stung by a bee on the left wrist. The Pennsylvania strong boy had a slight puff on his wrist, but didn't expect to be bothered by it.

Carry Back To Visit At Thistledown

CLEVELAND — Next stop for Carry Back is Thistledown.

Although he won't be competing in a race, the millionaire thoroughbred is heading for Cleveland and a Carry Back celebration in Ohio for his Cleveland owners Jack and Katherine Price.

The welcome takes on something of a victory celebration following his impressive victory in the $50,000 added Whitney Stakes at Saratoga last weekend.

World's Fastest Swimmers Compete At Cuyahoga Falls

CUYAHOGA FALLS, Ohio (AP) —Some of the world's fastest swimmers will defend their laurels against stiff international competition at the men's National AAU outdoor swimming championships opening here Friday.

Gerhard Hetz and Ted Stickles, who have been trading record times across the Atlantic Ocean for the 400-meter individual medley, will clash in that event on the opening day of the three-day meet.

Stickles, the Indiana University student from San Mateo, Calif., went under 5 minutes for the 400-meter medley for the first time here last year. But Hetz, 20, West German aquatic ace, bettered Stickles' record last spring with a time of 4:53.8. Stickles has twice since beaten that time and has been clocked at 4:51.8.

In the freestyle events two swimmers who have won top honors will be trying to show the youngsters that they are still to be taken seriously. They are Murray Rose, 22, an Australian who lost to Roy Saari in the 200, 400 and 1500-meter events in the indoor championships last spring, and another Aussie, Jon Konrads, who holds world records in the 400 and 1500-meter freestyle events.

Saari, 17, from El Segundo, Calif., has bettered Konrads' 1500-meter record, but Saari's time last spring is not considered a record.

Pro Grid Double Feature Expected To Draw 60,000

CLEVELAND — The largest pre - season football crowd in Cleveland Browns history is now almost certain to be in the lakefront Stadium Saturday evening, Aug. 18, for the first professional football doubleheader ever staged.

Upwards of 60,000 are expected for the Festival of Football program which features the Detroit Lions against the Dallas Cowboys in the 6:30 p. m. opener and the Cleveland Browns versus the Pittsburgh Steelers in the windup at about 9 p. m. This estimate is based on ticket sales which have now passed 35,000 - nearly twice the highest previous pre - season advance.

Downtown Cleveland hotels are offering attractive special rates for the historic weekend. Those participating include the Pick-Carter, Sheraton-Cleveland, Statler - Hilton and Manger.

Both games will be the full 60 minutes but timeouts will be shortened to 45 seconds and even less in the final two minutes of each half when time is frequently called to stop the clock.

Halftime intermissions will be cut to 15 minutes instead of 20 and the interval between the two games will be just long enough to allow the Browns and Steelers to warm up. They'll take the field immediately after the final gun of the Detroit-Dallas contest and remain there for the kick-off.

It'll be a little like homecoming on the field with 12 former Browns listed on the rosters of the visiting clubs. Detroit heads the parade with six including Milt Plum, Tom Watkins, Dave Lloyd, Willie McClung, Jim Gibbons and Dick LeBeau. With Dallas are Billy Howton, Frank Clarke, Sam Baker and Ed Nutting. And with the Steelers, Preston Carpenter and Bob Schnelker.

Reserved seats are $5, $4, and $3, the same as for regular season games.

Strong Field Tees Off In Akron Classic

Palmer, while shooting a practice round of one-over-par 71 Wednesday was stung by a bee on the left wrist. The Pennsylvania strong boy had a slight puff on his wrist, but didn't expect to be bothered by it.

Policemen On Raid End Up Babysitting

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Two members of th ecity vice squad started out on a lottery raid and ended up baby sitting.

Detectives Louis Cueto and Bill Whitmer burst into a Tampa home. They found numbers lists scattered across the floor and three wide-eyed children, ages 2 to 5, sitting at a kitchen table.

"Mama, mama — she just went out the door," one of the children yelled.

"I showed them my badge and told them I was a police officer and their friend," said Cueto.

"I fixed them peanut butter sandwiches. I got one of them a glass of water. One was assisted to the potty chair. I told them to go ahead and eat their sandwiches and their mommy and daddy would be back soon, but they didn't say one word."

The father came home and the children swarmed all over him, Cueto said. The mother, a 22-year-old woman identified as Thelma Patterson, surrendered to her bondsman and was charged with conducting a lottery.

country but the American licensee for its manufacture distributed the pills to 1,231 American doctors for possible experimental use before it was associated with the birth of deformed babies in Europe.

There have been no reports of malformed babies in this country from that investigational use, but there have been some cases of deformity in which the mothers had obtained the drug otherwise from abroad during pregnancy.

Present regulations, however, do not require either an initial notice to FDA of a clinical trial of a new drug or subsequent reports on such use.

Regulations would not require advance government approval of the preclinical investigation, the qualifications of the investigators, or the plan of the clinical investigation. The commissioner of food and drugs, now George P. Larrick, would be authorized, however, to terminate any investigational use if the new requirements were not being met.

As to investigations of new drugs already under way, the proposed regulations would require prompt reporting to FDA of information showing that the investigation may be safely continued. Failure to submit such a report would automatically terminate the authority under which clinical investigations are now conducted.

President Kennedy has said "we ought to be tougher" in regulating distribution of drugs to doctors for experimental use. He and the Food and Drug Administration take the position this could be done without further legislation.

Bandit Probe Centers On 2

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — A three-state effort to smash a Chicago ring of torture-bandits remained focused today on the maximum security cell block of the Washtenaw County jail here.

State police postponed further questioning of Nicholas Guido, 41, and Frank Yonder, 23, Wednesday.

The men have refused to talk at length with anyone since their two-hour conference with a Chicago reporter at Ypsilanti Sunday.

Police said they later agreed to return to Illinois voluntarily if they could talk privately for 15 minutes and ride back to Chicago with the reporter. Guido said they were afraid of Chicago police, a friend having warned him that "the Chicago police have a bullet with my name on it."

Authorities kept the bargain but were stunned when the men demanded an extradition hearing in a court appearance Monday.

Police also met with apparent unwillingness to cooperate from a Sandusky, Ohio, woman, whose car the men were driving when stopped by state police for a traffic violation.

Police said the women told them she reported the car missing Thursday but that a check revealed no report of the car's being stolen until Sunday. Guido and Yonder were arrested late Saturday. Yonder said the car was stolen in Detroit.

Police said they believe the woman loaned the men her car.

ing these indicators before he decides whether to ask for a quick tax cut to spur the economy or follow through with his plans to ask reductions later which would be effective next Jan. 1.

The White House announced Wednesday that the President is still waiting for all the data to be collected and studied before making his decision.

Earlier in the day it was reported Kennedy told a luncheon meeting of labor union officials that he had given up any idea of asking Congress for an immediate tax reduction.

The White House, however, issued a statement that as yet "no decision has been made."

Heller, chairman of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, went through an afternoon of committee questioning without dropping a hint as to what Kennedy's eventual recommendation may be.

But he defended Kennedy against a charge of agonizing indecisiveness made earlier by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y.

Javits urged that Congress vote a $5.5-billion tax cut before it goes home and criticized the President for what he called a failure of leadership.

Bus Hits Car, Woman Hurt

A Monaca woman was hurt when an auto in which she was a passenger was struck by a bus, shoving it into a car ahead, Wednesday night on Route 66 near the entrance to Waterford Park race track. A passenger in the bus also was hurt.

Mrs. Mary Herman, 48, in a car driven by her husband, William J. Herman, was in "fair" condition today at City Hospital with abrasions of the right leg and possible whiplash injury of the neck.

Also hurt in the "chain reaction" accident was Leo Traynor, 62, of 722 W. 7th St., who fell against the window of the bus and injured his right arm. Hancock County sheriff deputies took him to City Hospital.

The bus driver, Edward Louis Nelson, 47, of 825 Sophia St., told deputies traffic had halted ahead but he was unable to stop and skidded on the wet pavement, hitting the rear of the Herman auto which hit the back of the third vehicle driven by Joe Susany of Bessemer.

Damage was estimated at $800 to the right front of the GMC bus deputies said is owned by John R. Campbell and Donald W. Barnes, 618 River Rd. There was $500 damage to the front and rear of Herman's 1961 sedan and $300 to the rear of Susany's 1953 sedan.

Nelson was charged with failure to have his vehicle under control. The mishap occurred about 8:30.

Clinton County Enters Airport Organization

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — R. William Patterson of Dayton, chairman of the group organizing a Southwestern Ohio Regional Airport Authority, reports that Clinton County has become the first official member.

Patterson said Wednesday night the Clinton County commissioners also had authorized approximately $1,600 as the county's share toward survey costs on the proposed regional airport between Dayton and Cincinnati.

Very Tough Women

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Airman James Wilhoit of Davis Monthan Air Force Base is convinced women are getting bigger and tougher all the time. Wilhoit, 43, said he was walking down a Tucson street when three women stepped out of a doorway, dragged him into a room, hit him over the head with a club and took $40 from his wallet. Then, he told police, they tossed him out in the street.

Squirrels Evicted

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The gray squirrels, residents of Ohio's Statehouse lawn and trees for half a century, have been evicted in the face of progress. The trees, which hold about 85 nest boxes, will be removed in the construction of an underground garage. The squirrels have been distributed among four parks of the Columbus Metropolitan Park board.

British Send U.S. 'Nazi' Leader Home

LONDON (AP)—American Nazi leader George Lincoln Rockwell gave a Hitler salute today as Britain deported him to the United States.

Bareheaded and wearing a brown suede jacket and sun glasses, the fuehrer of the American Nazi party was escorted by Scotland Yard detectives to the steps of a Pan American jetliner bound for Boston.

Shortly before takeoff time, several persons with muffled voices called the airport to say bombs were aboard the plane.

"I advise you to search that plane," said one, "or Rockwell is going to have an unpleasant surprise."

The bomb threat delayed the plane's departure only 12 minutes. "They appeared to be cranks," said a Pan American spokesman of the callers.

A quick check was made of the plane but no trace of a bomb was found. The airliner had been under guard since it arrived early this morning.

He was seated in the economy section of the plane, ahead of the other 38 passengers. The Home Office said he paid for his own ticket, which cost $270.06.

Rockwell was arrested Wednesday night in London after a nationwide hunt.

He slipped into England by way of Ireland and spoke last weekend at a Nazi camp in the Cotswold Hills. The government, perturbed at mob attacks on recent fascist meetings, issued a deportation order for him, but by then he had disappeared.

A telephone call to Scotland Yard Wednesday night sent four detectives racing to a street corner in the heart of London.

Rockwell was taken into custody as he stepped from a car.

State Sets Check On Petitions For Sunday Sale Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—County election boards are to check petitions calling for revising Ohio Sunday closing laws in the next step to place the proposal before voters in the Nov. 6 election.

Officials of the Lawson Milk Co., operator of a chain of dairy stores mainly in Northeastern Ohio, filed petitions bearing 561,041 signatures with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown Wednesday.

William Howlett, Lawson president, said the proposal, if approved by a majority of voters, would permit Sunday sale of necessities of modern family life. He said various items listed in the proposal cannot now be sold legally on Sunday under some court interpretations of so-called blue laws dating back to 1831.

The proposal provides for Sunday and weekday sales of:

"Gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph, public means of transportation or any other public utility service or product; newspaper, other news publications, radio, television or other public communications service; household fuels vehicles; prescriptions and proprietary drugs and household medical supplies; products used for personal hygiene and sanitation; milk, milk products, any food item or food product for human and animal consumption."

Irondale Group Plans Annual Homecoming

Any non-profit organization desiring to operate a concession stand may apply in writing to Raymond Patton or Paul Ferry, homecoming co-chairmen, before Aug. 21.

Plans so far call for Newell and Stanton Local teams to play the homecoming game.

Films, Aerial Views Shown Civil Air Patrol

Vaughn McMorrow, a senior member, screened movies of a recent air trip to Florida and the Bahamas and aerial views of the Tri-State area at a meeting of the area Civil Air Patrol unit Wednesday night at Daw Junior High School in Wellsville.

Eight cadets and five senior members attended. It was reported uniforms are en route from Wright Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton. A pre-encampment equipment check will be held at the next meeting Wednesday night at 7 by Warrant Officer Gus Lardis of Steubenville.

British Send U.S. 'Nazi' Leader Home

LONDON (AP)—American Nazi leader George Lincoln Rockwell gave a Hitler salute today as Britain deported him to the United States.

Bareheaded and wearing a brown suede jacket and sun glasses, the fuehrer of the American Nazi party was escorted by Scotland Yard detectives to the steps of a Pan American jetliner bound for Boston.

Shortly before takeoff time, several persons with muffled voices called the airport to say bombs were aboard the plane.

"I advise you to search that plane," said one, "or Rockwell is going to have an unpleasant surprise."

The bomb threat delayed the plane's departure only 12 minutes. "They appeared to be cranks," said a Pan American spokesman of the callers.

A quick check was made of the plane but no trace of a bomb was found. The airliner had been under guard since it arrived early this morning.

He was seated in the economy section of the plane, ahead of the other 38 passengers. The Home Office said he paid for his own ticket, which cost $270.06.

Rockwell was arrested Wednesday night in London after a nationwide hunt.

He slipped into England by way of Ireland and spoke last weekend at a Nazi camp in the Cotswold Hills. The government, perturbed at mob attacks on recent fascist meetings, issued a deportation order for him, but by then he had disappeared.

A telephone call to Scotland Yard Wednesday night sent four detectives racing to a street corner in the heart of London.

State Sets Check On Petitions For Sunday Sale Vote

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—County election boards are to check petitions calling for revising Ohio Sunday closing laws in the next step to place the proposal before voters in the Nov. 6 election.

Officials of the Lawson Milk Co., operator of a chain of dairy stores mainly in Northeastern Ohio, filed petitions bearing 561,041 signatures with Secretary of State Ted W. Brown Wednesday.

Statute requires 328,413 valid signatures for a popular vote on a proposal to change Ohio's Constitution, Brown explained.

William Howlett, Lawson president, said the proposal, if approved by a majority of voters, would permit Sunday sale of necessities of modern family life. He said various items listed in the proposal cannot now be sold legally on Sunday under some court interpretations of so-called blue laws dating back to 1831.

The proposal provides for Sunday and weekday sales of:

"Gas, electricity, telephone, telegraph, public means of transportation or any other public utility service or product; newspaper, other news publications, radio, television or other public communications service; household fuels vehicles; prescriptions and proprietary drugs and household medical supplies; products used for personal hygiene and sanitation; milk, milk products, any food item or food product for human and animal consumption."

Irondale Group Plans Annual Homecoming

IRONDALE — Planners of Irondale's annual homecoming expect to announce further details at a meeting Aug. 21 when committees will be completed. All interested persons are invited to attend the meeting at the village building.

Any non-profit organization desiring to operate a concession stand may apply in writing to Raymond Patton or Paul Ferry, homecoming co-chairmen, before Aug. 21.

Plans so far call for Newell and Stanton Local teams to play the homecoming game.

Films, Aerial Views Shown Civil Air Patrol

Vaughn McMorrow, a senior member, screened movies of a recent air trip to Florida and the Bahamas and aerial views of the Tri-State area at a meeting of the area Civil Air Patrol unit Wednesday night at Daw Junior High School in Wellsville.

Eight cadets and five senior members attended. It was reported uniforms are en route from Wright Patterson Air Force Base at Dayton. A pre-encampment equipment check will be held at the next meeting Wednesday night at 7 by Warrant Officer Gus Lardis of Steubenville.

Red Chinese Sound Peaceful Note

By MARGUERITE HIGGINS
Herald Tribune News Service

WASHINGTON — The untold story of the recent 14-nation Geneva conference on Laos was the remarkably non-bellicose (comparatively) performance of Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi. The Peiping dragon, if not breathing sweetness, was at least breathing a degree of reasonableness that was both pleasantly unsettling and fascinating to Western diplomats.

Whatever became of the "inscrutable Chinese?" Although Chen Yi still tended to be somewhat reserved with the American delegation, he seemed with others to have taken a leaf from the famous Kennedy book of candor.

Some comparing of Western and neutralist diplomatic notes, for example, shows that at one point the Red Chinese official would up a private conversation eulogizing peace by stating in effect that in any case Peiping's economic distress was so massive that it couldn't fight a war even if it wanted to, which it didn't.

AS A WESTERN diplomat involved in the conversation put it: "You Americans have a saying that applies. My own translation from Chen Yi's Chinese was that the foreign minister felt his country could not at this moment fight its way out of a paper bag. Now why he should say so, that is the interesting point."

All this Red Chinese affinity for the dove of peace certainly is in interesting surface contrast to persistent reports that Peiping has been quarreling with Moscow over Russia's alleged "softness" about war as a sometimes necessary means to a Communist end.

But this was not the only interesting point provided by Chen Yi. Most intriguing, perhaps, is that despite Chen Yi's haughty public disclaimers of any interest in Western aid, the net effect of his private conversations was to raise the question of whether he was not, in his own Oriental fashion, trying to size up the possibilities of increased economic ties with the free world.

HOW ELSE explain the unprecedented admission that Peiping did have important differences with Moscow? No Chinese official has ever told this to Westerners before in so many clear-cut words.

More important, this was coupled with the clear inference that a main bone of contention was Moscow's meager response to Red China in her hour of near-tragic economic need.

Also, since Geneva, there have been two interesting developments. The first was Chen Yi's casual mention last week at a Peiping diplomatic cocktail party that he had assured Secretary of State Dean Rusk that there would be no trouble from Red China on carrying out the accord for neutralizing Laos. (Why publicize a promise unnecessarily if you intend to violate it?)

And second was the Swiss radio interview in which Chen Yi said it was "rather nice of the Americans" to assure Peiping that they did not intend to aid and abet a Nationalist Chinese invasion of the mainland. (The assurances were given in talks between the Chinese-American representatives in Warsaw.)

Unaccumstomed as Washington is to appreciation from Peiping officialdom, it has nevertheless been decided at the highest levels to consider intensively what all this uncharacteristic blandness portends.

SOME OF THE TOP brains in the State Department are coping with such monumental — and politically loaded—issues as this: If Red China is at last veering in the direction of reapproachment, however slight, with the West, is it in the national interest of the U.S. to encourage this trend in some way?

Nobody in Washington is fooled by Chen Yi's performance into thinking that Peiping has suddenly changed its ways. Traditionally, the Chinese accept a truce to stay the enemy's hand and trick him into losing ground. Peiping's gamesmanship is admired as adroit, but not infallible. Washington's question is: Can we turn the game to our advantage?

Chen Yi, in the same Swiss interview, himself underlined the dangers of the game by claiming that Red China was substantially on the way to an atomic bomb and that nothing would deter her from achieving it.

IT HAS BEST been stated by Andre Malraux, the French minister of culture, who was already an expert on communism — especially Chinese communism—in the days when Chip Bohlen was just learning to pronounce his first Russian words.

According to Malraux it is fruitless to expect the Russians to be serious about disarmament because they cannot afford to diminish their effort in any way so long as Red China exists. In the long run it is the Chinese, not the West, that will challenge Russia. And as Chen Yi said, nothing can persuade the Red Chinese to abandon their drive to become the world's greatest power.

Natural Gas Firm To Pay Dividend

A regular quarterly dividend of 57½ cents per share will be paid Aug. 15 by the Consolidated Natural Gas Co., which reports net income for six months ended June 3 of $28,886,123, compared with restated net income of $29,305,251 for the same period in 1961 for the firm and subsidiaries.

Subsidiaries include Peoples Natural Gas Co., which serves Midland and other areas of Beaver County.

The 1961 earnings have been restated to reflect two recent settlement agreements on certain gas sales and gas purchases and an additional gas purchased refund received in 1962 under an earlier settlement.

Net income for the first six months was equivalent to $3.19 per share of capital stock. For the first six months of 1961 restated net income was $3.24 a share.

On this date—

In 1757, French General Montcalm captured Fort William Henry in New York.

In 1954, a military pact was signed by Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia.

Today's birthdays:

Concert violinist Zino Francescatti is 59 years old.

Thought for today:

Natural Gas Firm To Pay Dividend

A regular quarterly dividend of 57½ cents per share will be paid Aug. 15 by the Consolidated Natural Gas Co., which reports net income for six months ended June 3 of $28,886,123, compared with restated net income of $29,305,251 for the same period in 1961 for the firm and subsidiaries.

Subsidiaries include Peoples Natural Gas Co., which serves Midland and other areas of Beaver County.

The 1961 earnings have been restated to reflect two recent settlement agreements on certain gas sales and gas purchases and an additional gas purchased refund received in 1962 under an earlier settlement.

Net income for the first six months was equivalent to $3.19 per share of capital stock. For the first six months of 1961 restated net income was $3.24 a share.

Today In History

Today's highlight in history:

On this day in 1857, operations were begun by the original southern overland mail route which connected San Antonio and San Diego. Mail was carried at the start by pack animals.

On this date—

In 1757, French General Montcalm captured Fort William Henry in New York.

In 1896, the German aeronautical engineer who invented the glider — Otto Lilienthal — was killed in a glider accident.

In 1954, a military pact was signed by Turkey, Greece and Yugoslavia.

Today's birthdays:

Concert violinist Zino Francescatti is 59 years old.

Thought for today:

75 Attend Roundtable Held For Cherokee Scout Group

William Hughes, scoutmaster of Troop 14 of the Riverside United Presbyterian Church in Wellsville, and John Hoskinson, a member of Explorer Post 59 of the Yellow Creek Presbyterian Church, won prizes.

Bill Rayburn, camping and activities chairman, reported on the trip to the Philmont Scout Ranch in New Mexico and also of the pioneer camp scheduled Aug. 24-26 at Beaver Creek State Forest Park at Echo Dell. The camp is open to all scouts, explorers and scoutmasters.

Pack 59 won the Cherokee duck for attendance. Rayburn purchased a cake which was auctioned. Mrs. David O'Hanlon of Pack 36 made the cake. Pack 78 was second in attendance.

Don Ramsey, organization and extension chairman, reported on a membership contest. Bob Gray, district executive, reported on the advancement of the district and the number of boys enrolled in the units.

An appeal was made for four more den mothers for Pack 78. Refreshments were served by members of the pack.

An Exploring roundtable also was held with J. L. McKinnon, Post 7 advisor, as the discussion leader. Four posts were represented.

Bill Jones, assistant district commissioner, conducted business and distributed pamphlets on bicycle safety. Other district officers present were Adolph Brandt, district vice chairman, and Colin Brown, Wilbert Ewing and Bill Betteridge, commissioners.

Cowan Elected Head At Waterford Reunion

Sidney Cowan was elected president at the 14th annual John R. White reunion Sunday at Mil Pic Park in New Waterford.

Other officers named include Frank Burns, vice president; Virginia Cowan, secretary, and Fawn Smith, treasurer.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When my lamb's wool wax applicator got old and hardened, I tore a small square from an old sheet to fit over it, fastening it at the top with two safety pins. I wax the floors with this, throwing it away after the job is done. I figure one old sheet should last me a year . . . and no more messy applicators to wash out and dry. Any old rag will do and you can wash it out in a jiffy afterward if you are especially thifty.

I mix only a tiny saucerful of liquid rug cleaner when I want to spot clean my rugs. What is left in the saucer makes a wonderful cleaner for plastic-covered kitchen chairs when applied with a small, natural bristle brush. Scrub it on in a jiffy and wipe it off with a turkish towel wrung out in warm water.

This is ever so much faster than other cleaning methods and my plastic just gleams.

DOROTHY R. BRYANT

Canvas Shoes

DEAR HELOISE: If you have an old pair of canvas or linen shoes which were white, they can be easily tinted for a few more wearings. Get a tube of white shoe cleaner, squeeze some in an old saucer and add food coloring. . . mix this.

Apply as you would white shoe polish and presto. . . pink, yellow, blue or even green shoes. Start by using pale colors. The next time you can change the color or go to darker shades.

Those worn out, heavy teenage cotton socks are wonderful for cleaning brass, shelves, etc.

ELLEN CLASSY

Here's The Answer

DEAR HELOISE: How can I keep a tray of sandwiches—such as tuna salad, chicken salad, ham salad—from becoming soggy when kept in the refrigerator for a few hours?

Also, how can I keep deviled eggs from drying out on top when stored?

Have you ever tried covering the sandwiches with plastic? It sure works for me. I also find that if I am going to keep them longer than a few hours, that I can slightly dampen a tea towel and put this over the plastic. Same thing for the eggs. Works for me like a charm.

HELOISE

No Crying

DEAR HELOISE: I line the shelves of my new refrigerator with paper towels. Spilt milk, running down the sides of the bottle, will not cause white, hard spots to form on the shelves if the toweling is there to catch the spill.

One of the greatest time savers, I find, is soaking the plastic dish drainer, garbage container and mates (both kitchen and bathroom) in my laundry tub. . . using household bleach generously with the water.

RITA

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

PTA's Should Have Good Programs

Many local PTA programs are being made up now. One reason is to have them printed for the entire school year. Another reason is to line up speakers while they are available. Unfortunately the program chairman is often guided chiefly by the questions, "Will this program bring out good-sized crowds?" This objective often causes selection of a topic and speaker on matters remote from the leading purposes of the PTA. An Ohio mother writes: "Since my son started school five years ago and my daughter this year, I have attended a great many PTA meetings.

Dr. Garry Meyers

"I HAVE BECOME increasingly concerned with the quality of these programs. They seem to stray so far from the original purpose of the association and get further and further away from the most important reason for having a PTA — that of better understanding and co-operation between the parents and the teachers, for the good of the children.

"There is a wide range of interesting programs to be had, dealing with many aspects of rearing a child. Yet all too often the programs have little or nothing to do with children in any way, shape or form.

"If you were about to begin the task of scheduling PTA programs for the next school year, what topics would you give your foremost consideration? As President of the PTA in one of our elementary schools, I am interested in having good quality in our programs."

My reply in part:

I share your displeasure over many of the PTA programs. If I were a local PTA president, I would include some of the following programs:

—:—

HOW TO CULTIVATE good study habits at home in the school child — requiring him to read for a definite daily period when there is no homework.

Training children at home in due regard for the rights and feelings of other persons there, in obedience and respect for constituted authority.

How to supervise and limit viewing of TV programs at home, forbidding the viewing of programs of violence.

How to cultivate self-reliance and responsibility in the child at home and train him in faithful doing of regular home chores.

Why we can't hope to train the child at home to work hard merely by persuasion and trying to make everything he should do easy and attractive.

Responsibility of parents for cultivating those attitudes and habits of character and citizenship which will contribute to the growth of these at school.

HOW TO FOSTER in children at home broad understanding and appreciation of all persons or groups of persons who are different from them.

In all this there should be emphasized how all these home procedures could carry over to school and further successes there.

Makeup Of City Traffic Group Aired At Meeting

Possible appointments to the City Traffic Commission were aired when Mayor Bert H. Goodballet conferred Tuesday with Alvin T. Babb, Chamber of Commerce president, and H. Judson English, chairman of the Chamber's safety council.

Five members will be named to the commission, which has been inactive for several years, but no appointments will be made until he can contact two holdover members to determine if they will be able to serve, the mayor said.

When the commission first was established, three members were appointed for four years and two for two years. One member is deceased and the mayor said he will contact the other two men with four-year terms to determine if they will continue to serve.

Under the present ordinance, all appointments will be for four years.

It Seems Only Fish Had The Smallmouths

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP) — Rufus Turnage of Goldsboro happily displayed a string of 33 smallmouth bass and said he "could have caught a hundred if I hadn't run out of bait".

After the picture appeared in the paper, Game Protector A. G. Howell located Turnage and gave him a clipping of the picture. Then Howell charged Turnage with possession of more than the legal limit of eight small mouth bass. Turnage paid a $10 fine.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: When my lamb's wool wax applicator got old and hardened, I tore a small square from an old sheet to fit over it, fastening it at the top with two safety pins. I wax the floors with this, throwing it away after the job is done. I figure one old sheet should last me a year . . . and no more messy applicators to wash out and dry. Any old rag will do and you can wash it out in a jiffy afterward if you are especially thifty.

I mix only a tiny saucerful of liquid rug cleaner when I want to spot clean my rugs. What is left in the saucer makes a wonderful cleaner for plastic-covered kitchen chairs when applied with a small, natural bristle brush. Scrub it on in a jiffy and wipe it off with a turkish towel wrung out in warm water.

This is ever so much faster than other cleaning methods and my plastic just gleams.

DOROTHY R. BRYANT

Canvas Shoes

DEAR HELOISE: If you have an old pair of canvas or linen shoes which were white, they can be easily tinted for a few more wearings. Get a tube of white shoe cleaner, squeeze some in an old saucer and add food coloring. . . mix this.

Apply as you would white shoe polish and presto. . . pink, yellow, blue or even green shoes. Start by using pale colors. The next time you can change the color or go to darker shades.

Those worn out, heavy teenage cotton socks are wonderful for cleaning brass, shelves, etc.

ELLEN CLASSY

Here's The Answer

DEAR HELOISE: How can I keep a tray of sandwiches—such as tuna salad, chicken salad, ham salad—from becoming soggy when kept in the refrigerator for a few hours?

Also, how can I keep deviled eggs from drying out on top when stored?

Have you ever tried covering the sandwiches with plastic? It sure works for me. I also find that if I am going to keep them longer than a few hours, that I can slightly dampen a tea towel and put this over the plastic. Same thing for the eggs. Works for me like a charm.

HELOISE

No Crying

DEAR HELOISE: I line the shelves of my new refrigerator with paper towels. Spilt milk, running down the sides of the bottle, will not cause white, hard spots to form on the shelves if the toweling is there to catch the spill.

One of the greatest time savers, I find, is soaking the plastic dish drainer, garbage container and mates (both kitchen and bathroom) in my laundry tub. . . using household bleach generously with the water.

RITA

Heloise welcomes all mail, especially household hints which she can pass on to readers as space permits. However, because of the tremendous volume of mail she receives daily, Heloise is unable to answer all individual letters. She will answer readers' questions in her column whenever possible.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

PTA's Should Have Good Programs

Many local PTA programs are being made up now. One reason is to have them printed for the entire school year. Another reason is to line up speakers while they are available. Unfortunately the program chairman is often guided chiefly by the questions, "Will this program bring out good-sized crowds?" This objective often causes selection of a topic and speaker on matters remote from the leading purposes of the PTA. An Ohio mother writes: "Since my son started school five years ago and my daughter this year, I have attended a great many PTA meetings.

"I HAVE BECOME increasingly concerned with the quality of these programs. They seem to stray so far from the original purpose of the association and get further and further away from the most important reason for having a PTA — that of better understanding and co-operation between the parents and the teachers, for the good of the children.

"There is a wide range of interesting programs to be had, dealing with many aspects of rearing a child. Yet all too often the programs have little or nothing to do with children in any way, shape or form.

"If you were about to begin the task of scheduling PTA programs for the next school year, what topics would you give your foremost consideration? As President of the PTA in one of our elementary schools, I am interested in having good quality in our programs."

My reply in part:

I share your displeasure over many of the PTA programs. If I were a local PTA president, I would include some of the following programs:

—:—

HOW TO CULTIVATE good study habits at home in the school child — requiring him to read for a definite daily period when there is no homework.

Training children at home in due regard for the rights and feelings of other persons there, in obedience and respect for constituted authority.

How to supervise and limit viewing of TV programs at home, forbidding the viewing of programs of violence.

How to cultivate self-reliance and responsibility in the child at home and train him in faithful doing of regular home chores.

Why we can't hope to train the child at home to work hard merely by persuasion and trying to make everything he should do easy and attractive.

Responsibility of parents for cultivating those attitudes and habits of character and citizenship which will contribute to the growth of these at school.

How to cultivate at home love of books and good reading skills and to bring up children in a reading family.

HOW TO FOSTER in children at home broad understanding and appreciation of all persons or groups of persons who are different from them.

In all this there should be emphasized how all these home procedures could carry over to school and further successes there.

Makeup Of City Traffic Group Aired At Meeting

Possible appointments to the City Traffic Commission were aired when Mayor Bert H. Goodballet conferred Tuesday with Alvin T. Babb, Chamber of Commerce president, and H. Judson English, chairman of the Chamber's safety council.

Five members will be named to the commission, which has been inactive for several years, but no appointments will be made until he can contact two holdover members to determine if they will be able to serve, the mayor said.

When the commission first was established, three members were appointed for four years and two for two years. One member is deceased and the mayor said he will contact the other two men with four-year terms to determine if they will continue to serve.

Under the present ordinance, all appointments will be for four years.

The last functioning commission served in 1958 and briefly in 1959.

Out Of The Air

By ALAN GILL

A Couple Of Krazy Kats

Krazy Kat—for all her zany optimsim, her strange twists of grammar, and her improbable joy (or because of them)—was a pure poet. In one of George Herriman's comic strips in 1941, Krazy is sitting on the banks of a pond watching a trio of unrelated birds swimming by.

Alan Gill

"It looks," the lady poet says, "like a duck, a gooze an' a swomm. But I ain't gonna say they is, because I ain't shoe of nothin' these days—nothin' except mistakes."

HERRIMAN, at that point, ran out of space. If he'd had a panel or two left, he doubtless would have had Ignatz tossing a brick ("POW" and sometimes "KWOPP") at the sweet poet and then getting slapped into the "hoozegow" by Offisa Pup.

Well, Herriman seemed to be saying, that's life. Life is composed of (a) poets who commit perfect errors, (b) a public that throws bricks and (c) a policeman.

Last Thursday night, CBS News paid a visit to the home of Archibald MacLeish in Conway, Mass., and eavesdropped (alongside a pond!) upon the dialogues of two sweet poets and cronies, Mr. MacLeish and Mr. Mark Van Doren.

THE ERRORS made (and there were many) were perfect ones, I thought, and you won't be getting any bricks out of me.

Van Doren is a small man with a teacher's face and a simple mode of speaking.

"It's a lovely thing," he said, "to do nothing at all—just let a day go by." (That's poetry.)

Yes, said MacLeish, a large man with an executive's face, "just let yourself drift down into the pool of the day." (That's poetizing.)

"I love monotony," Van Doren went on. When a man does the same, easy-going things each day, "you come to appreciate little differences."

LATER, returning to this favorite refrain of his, he would say, "You know, there is no hurry—we could do with a lot of non-doing."

MacLeish, on the other hand, would launch into a discussion (in this case the comprehension of God) with a clause like this: "If I were put through an orange squeezer until the pips began to squeal——" And that's the way it went.

They discussed man's search for God.

"It ought to be difficult," Van Doren said, to conceive of God. And both men frowned upon people who can say, "Lord, Lord," with presumptuous ease.

They talked about goodness and strength, told a moving anecdote about James Thurber's blindness, wandered through a field of wild flowers, recalling that many of them had been introduced to America by the English settlers; caught a fish, came up with the Latin word for frog, got onto education ("Don't address freshmen as blanks," said Mark Van Doren, "they're already filled up"; and, "Better than knowing about something is knowing it"), and tackled the subject of disarmament.

MAYBE, Van Doren suggested, the only answer to the arms race is the simplest one of all: We should stop testing and begin disarming on our own and somehow tell our reasons eloquently to the world.

It would work, he thought, because every man everywhere wants it.

Outside of the occasional puzzlements (a discussion of the plight of fictional characters who knowingly are trapped within a myth left me crosseyed), the hour allowed a viewer to drift down pleasantly into Mr. MacLeish's "pool of the day."

The camera, however, has a bad case of Parkinson's disease and took an inordinate, palsied interest in the hands of the two poets—a trick that is television's current bid for artiness.

Russia Fails To Hide New Test Series

WASHINGTON (AP—U.S. authorities said today they believe that despite Kremlin secrecy, millions of Soviets know their government has resumed nuclear testing.

But many Soviets would know about the tests anyway, regardless of Moscow's refusal to announce officially the nuclear explosions so far.

The Voice of America, the U.S. government short-wave radio, figures that more than 10 million of the 220 million Soviets tune in on its broadcasts. The Voice featured the Soviet resumption of testing as a lead news item for nearly three days after the huge Novaya Zemlya high altitude blast last Sunday.

The Soviets have been jamming those portions of the Voice's Russian language newscasts reporting the Soviet tests, but Voice officials say the U.S. signal can still get through to much of the Soviet Union despite the deliberate radio interference. And the Soviets do not jam the Voice's English-language programs, which give the news, too.

In addition, the word is beamed at the Soviet Union by Radio Liberty, the British Broadcasting Corp., and others. Visitors also bring in news.

A large number of Soviet civilians also must have witnessed the atomic testing, since it has been seen in neighboring Norway.

Still unexplained is why the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission delayed for days its announcement of the new Soviet test resumption.

"Both progressive and dynamic was Cloud's description of the idea.

Out Of The Air

A Couple Of Krazy Kats

Krazy Kat—for all her zany optimsim, her strange twists of grammar, and her improbable joy (or because of them)—was a pure poet. In one of George Herriman's comic strips in 1941, Krazy is sitting on the banks of a pond watching a trio of unrelated birds swimming by.

Alan Gill

"It looks," the lady poet says, "like a duck, a gooze an' a swomm. But I ain't gonna say they is, because I ain't shoe of nothin' these days—nothin' except mistakes."

Ignatz Mouse comes to join her on the bank and identifies the birds as "a drake, a gander, and a cob."

HERRIMAN, at that point, ran out of space. If he'd had a panel or two left, he doubtless would have had Ignatz tossing a brick ("POW" and sometimes "KWOPP") at the sweet poet and then getting slapped into the "hoozegow" by Offisa Pup.

Well, Herriman seemed to be saying, that's life. Life is composed of (a) poets who commit perfect errors, (b) a public that throws bricks and (c) a policeman.

Last Thursday night, CBS News paid a visit to the home of Archibald MacLeish in Conway, Mass., and eavesdropped (alongside a pond!) upon the dialogues of two sweet poets and cronies, Mr. MacLeish and Mr. Mark Van Doren.

THE ERRORS made (and there were many) were perfect ones, I thought, and you won't be getting any bricks out of me.

Van Doren is a small man with a teacher's face and a simple mode of speaking.

"It's a lovely thing," he said, "to do nothing at all—just let a day go by." (That's poetry.)

Yes, said MacLeish, a large man with an executive's face, "just let yourself drift down into the pool of the day." (That's poetizing.)

"I love monotony," Van Doren went on. When a man does the same, easy-going things each day, "you come to appreciate little differences."

LATER, returning to this favorite refrain of his, he would say, "You know, there is no hurry—we could do with a lot of non-doing."

MacLeish, on the other hand, would launch into a discussion (in this case the comprebension of God) with a clause like this: "If I were put through an orange squeezer until the pips began to squeal——" And that's the way it went.

They discussed man's search for God.

"It ought to be difficult," Van Doren said, to conceive of God. And both men frowned upon people who can say, "Lord, Lord," with presumptuous ease.

They talked about goodness and strength, told a moving anecdote about James Thurber's blindness, wandered through a field of wild flowers, recalling that many of them had been introduced to America by the English settlers; caught a fish, came up with the Latin word for frog, got onto education ("Don't address freshmen as blanks," said Mark Van Doren, "they're already filled up"; and, "Better than knowing about something is knowing it"), and tackled the subject of disarmament.

MAYBE, Van Doren suggested, the only answer to the arms race is the simplest one of all: We should stop testing and begin disarming on our own and somehow tell our reasons eloquently to the world.

It would work, he thought, because every man everywhere wants it.

Outside of the occasional puzzlements (a discussion of the plight of fictional characters who knowingly are trapped within a myth left me crosseyed), the hour allowed a viewer to drift down pleasantly into Mr. MacLeish's "pool of the day."

The camera, however, has a bad case of Parkinson's disease and took an inordinate, palsied interest in the hands of the two poets—a trick that is television's current bid for artiness.

Children Flee Blaze

CINCINNATI (AP) — Fire at a dormitory of Cincinnati's Children's Home forced evacuation of a dozen youngsters Wednesday, but none was hurt. Fire officials said the second floor blaze caused about $3,000 damage. The cause was not learned immediately.

Russia Fails To Hide New Test Series

WASHINGTON (AP —U.S. authorities said today they believe that despite Kremlin secrecy, millions of Soviets know their government has resumed nuclear testing.

The authorities based their views in part on Western efforts to get word of the tests through the iron curtain.

But many Soviets would know about the tests anyway, regardless of Moscow's refusal to announce officially the nuclear explosions so far.

The Voice of America, the U.S. government short-wave radio, figures that more than 10 million of the 220 million Soviets tune in on its broadcasts. The Voice featured the Soviet resumption of testing as a lead news item for nearly three days after the huge Novaya Zemlya high altitude blast last Sunday.

The Soviets have been jamming those portions of the Voice's Russian language newscasts reporting the Soviet tests, but Voice officials say the U.S. signal can still get through to much of the Soviet Union despite the deliberate radio interference. And the Soviets do not jam the Voice's English-language programs, which give the news, too.

In addition, the word is beamed at the Soviet Union by Radio Liberty, the British Broadcasting Corp., and others. Visitors also bring in news.

A large number of Soviet civilians also must have witnessed the atomic testing, since it has been seen in neighboring Norway.

Scout Auxiliary Elects Officers

New officers to replace several who resigned were elected at a meeting of the women's auxiliary of Boy Scout Troop 74 Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Vernon Shaffer of Williams Ave.

Mrs. Shaffer was named president; Mrs. Rose Bowers, vice president, and Mrs. Carl Mack, treasurer.

The troop will hold a weekend camping session beginning tonight at Miller's Park at Williamsport. Families and friends of the boys are invited to a wiener roast Friday evening at the camp. Visitors are to bring food.

The auxiliary began plans for a bake sale in October. Next meeting is Oct. 1 at the home of Mrs. Phillip Garey of Westfield. Mrs. Austin Moore of Columbus, a former member, was a guest.

The troop is sponsored by the LaCroft Parent - Teacher Association.

Cloud, Mechem Back Proposals By Rhodes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, and House Speaker Roger Cloud, R-Logan, say State Auditor James A. Rhodes, Republican gubernatorial candidate, consulted with them before announcing his plan for industrial development in the state.

Both Mechem and Cloud expressed wholehearted backing Wednesday for Rhodes' proposal to set up an authority to administer a loan fund of about $100 million for new plant construction and expansion of existing ones. Rhodes' avowed aim is creation of 200,000 new jobs.

"Both progressive and dynamic was Cloud's description of the idea.

Firemen Learn Blaze Was Simply 'Too Bee'

BUDD LAKE, N.J. (AP)—Firemen dashed into a burning farmhouse Tuesday night—and dashed back out again.

"They were going down our necks, through our coats and into our trousers," said Fire Chief George D. Smith. About 20 firemen were stung.

The chief said the bees apparently had built a hive in the unoccupied building. The fire burned out the interior of the house.

An interruption in electrical service was scheduled this afternoon from 1 to 4 for Ohio Power Co. customers in the Hammondsville area, who are to be served by a new distribution system.

A 12,000-volt line will be used with completion of a new substation on the Old Irondale Rd.

W. E. Williams, district manager, said construction of new homes and the new Stanton Local High School, which will have electrically - heated classrooms, made necessary the change from a 4,000-volt line.

The change - over improvement is a $50,000 project. The old substation in the village will be removed.

About 375 customers of the utility affected by today's power interruption were notified by mail. The changeover to the new distribution system will take place Frdiay if weather conditions interfere today.

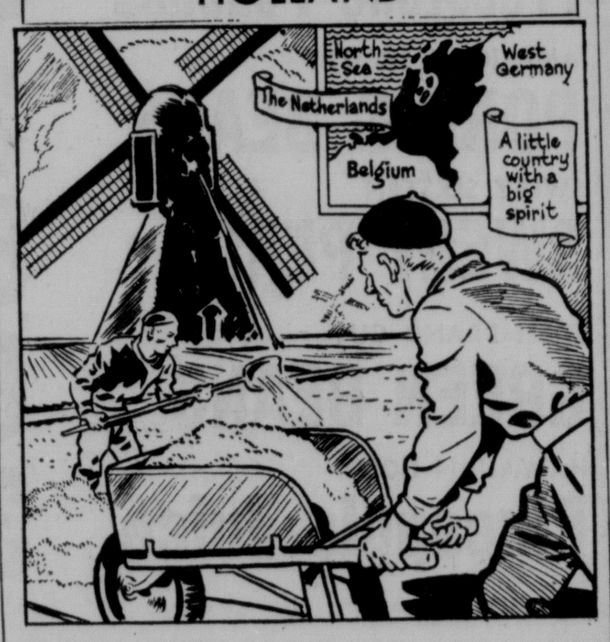
Junior Editors Quiz on HOLLAND



QUESTION: How did the Dutch take the salt out of their soil after World War II?

ANSWER: One quarter of Holland lies below sea level, so the Dutch must preserve their precious land with dikes or sea walls. In World War II, the Germans dynamited some of the dikes. Fortunately, the waters which came pouring in were those of the Ijsel Meer, an inland sea across which the industrious Dutch had built a huge lock with the idea of reclaiming much of the land underneath. Fresh water streams had made the lake's original salt water brackish. With the help of United States money, the Dutch soon pumped out the water. In a year, crops were growing again. Of course, this was brackish water, but even when the sea itself breaks through the dykes the hard working Dutch manage to bring the land back. Sea water sucks out the vital calcium from the soil. But the Dutch buy and spread gypsum on their soil (see illustration.) This is so rich in calcium that in two years it is possible to grow barley. In four years sugar beets and potatoes can be raised and soon the land is back in production again.

The President At Mid-Term

Kennedy's Plusses And Minuses

By RELMAN MORIN

"If you want war over Berlin, you'll get war."

History does not record a more blunt, bull-dozing threat thrown at one head of state by another.

"It looks like a cold winter."

The two men, having measured each other, went their separate ways.

Kennedy held firm on Berlin. Khrushchev set no new deadlines for signing a treaty with East Germany. He told a delegation of American newspaper editors last July 18 he still intends to sign such a treaty, but he said:

"When shall we do it? I will not set any time limit."

Some observers consider this a plus on the administration's credit-and-debit ledger for foreign affairs. For the moment, it may be.

But Kennedy, who says "Berlin is our big interest," does not expect Khrushchev to remain quiet indefinitely about this problem. No new formula for solving it is in sight. So Berlin is an X-factor, an uncertain quantity, in the foreign equation.

What are the plusses and minuses? Few developments in foreign affairs fit completely into this clear-cut definition.

Cuba, to be sure, was a disaster for the administration.

The Berlin Wall was a shocker. At home and abroad, people asked why the Western Allies were not prepared for such a contingency. Some Americans criticize Kennedy for not having ordered American tanks to knock down the wall at the moment the Communists began erecting it. Whether the other Allied governments would have supported such a move, is, of course, still another question.

The Congo is still snarled. The United States, with money and other support, backs the United Nations effort to force Katanga Province into the Leopoldville government. Some Americans bitterly criticize this policy. Only last week, the U.N. secretary-general termed the situation "particularly critical."

The problem with France, a hold-over from 1959, remains unsolved. The French are determined to develop their own nuclear weapons.

An agreement was hammered out for a tripod coalition government in Laos. The question is whether it will hold.

Before this agreement, Kennedy ordered American forces, including nearly 3,000 Marines, to Thailand to forestall a Communist guerrilla move out of Laos. The Marines were withdrawn as the tension lessened.

Government forces in South Viet Nam, using weapons and new tactics stamped "Made in America," seized the initiative from the Communist Viet Cong. The picture appears much better than it did a year ago when this correspondent toured the country. The issue, however, is likely to remain touch-and-go for a long time. It took 12 years to extinguish a smaller and more manageable Communist fire in Malaya.

American diplomats worked out the formula for settling the dispute between the Netherlands and Indonesia over West New Guinea. It contains guarantees to insure the right of self-determination for 700,000 Papuans living there.

Finally, in Latin America, the Alliance for Progress has been launched. Its objectives:

1. To foster economic growth at a minimum annual rate of 2½ per cent.
2. Tax reform.
3. Land reform to increase productivity.
4. Improved public health, housing and education. American aid entails $10 billion over a 10-year period and assistance in obtaining an additional $10 billion from other sources in Europe and Japan.

Last week, on the first anniversary of the Alliance, Kennedy was asked whether he was satisfied with the progress. He replied:

"Measured by what has to be done, I think we have to do much better."

Meanwhile, the administration says American military power—the vital factor behind foreign policy—is being beefed up steadily. In May, Secretary of Defense McNamara reported some of the details of the build-up to the White House conference on national economic issues. Among other things, he listed:

1. A 50 per cent increase (from 19 to 29 submarines) in the Polaris force scheduled for deployment in late 1964 or soon after.
2. A similar increase in the portion of the strategic bomber force to be maintained on 15-minute ground alert.
3. A "Significant increase" in the number of land-based Minuteman missiles, and doubling of the production capacity.
4. "An accelerated program to develop an effective, protected command and control system so that at all times, before, during and after an enemy attack, the constituted authorities, from the President on down, will have full command of our military forces."

McNamara said non-nuclear forces also were increased.

While building up the military strength of the United States, McNamara also launched a program to cut the costs of it. He expects to economize by $1.15 billion by fiscal year 1963, and to reduce expenditures $2 billion more by 1967.

35 At Salineville Family Reunion

Thirty-five descendants of the late Emmor and Sarah Earl of Salineville held their annual reunion Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hunter in Salem.

Elmer Barcus, 71, of Salineville and Leslie Barcus, 10-month, old son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Barcus of Dover, were the oldest and youngest to attend.

Games and swimming were the diversions and a picnic dinner was served. Mrs. Doris Earl was in charge of arrangements.

The 1963 reunion also will be held at the Hunter home.

Mrs. Georgia Beckwith of Jefferson St. returned Sunday after spending a week at the Christian Camp at Elkhorn near Bergholz.

3 Votes Hold Union's Fate At Ohio Concern

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bargaining rights for employes of the Gabriel Co. remained in doubt today following an election conducted by the National Labor Relations Board for the 1,055 workers at the company's two plants.

Final victory for teamsters Local 293 in Wednesday's voting hinges on three challenged ballots which remain unopened. The tabulation showed the Teamsters got 504 votes to 493 for the International Association of Machinists District 54, and 10 ballots were marked for neither union.

The Teamsters need two of the three challenged ballots for a majority of the 1,010 votes cast. If two or more are decided in favor of the IAM a new election will be necessary because the Teamsters will not have a majority.

73 Receive X-Ray Test In Hancock

Seventy-three persons, including 30 food handlers, three contacts and two "suspects," received X-rays in July at a health clinic in New Cumberland operated by the Hancock County Tuberculosis League.

In its monthly report of activities, the league said one person was admitted to a sanatarium and one discharged. One home visit was made.

The league completed requests of needs for aid made by patients in sanatariums. The league also offered home counseling service.

The clinic is located in the Health Department in the county seat and free X-rays are given county residents Monday through Wednesday from 9 a. m. to noon and 1 to 3 p. m. Mrs. Joseph Harrison, registered nurse, is public health nurse, and Mrs. Richard Staley, RN, is county tuberculosis nurse.
